Navy Announces Two Jap Destroyers, Two Cargo Ships, And Tanker Hit

NEW JAP ATTEMPT TO REACH ISLAND

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The navy reported today that in two days of furious land, sea and air action, American forces have checked new Japanese offensives in the Solomons, damaging two enemy destroyers, two cargo ships and one tanker and shooting down ten Japanese planes.

The action which occurred on Jan. 27 and 28 indicated that the Nipponese once more were moving into the Solomons with supplies and planes and possibly were preparing for another thrust to oust Americans from Guadalcanal.

Push Offensive

At the same time, the American forces continued their own offensive thrust against the Nipponese, capturing an enemy command post on Guadalcanal and blasting the Nipponese base on Kolombangara Island in the New Georgia group starting a large fire.

American resistance to the Jap moves also indicated clearly that the Yanks not only were "on their toes" but were strong enough on land and in the air to continue

Nazi Propaganda Indicates Hitler Not To Speak Tomorrow

By J. C. OESTREICHER
I. N. S. Foreign Editor

The Nazi propaganda machine, usually predictable as regards fulsome boasts and threats on occasions of historic importance, provided a surprise today by reporting that Adolf Hitler will remain silent tomorrow on the tenth anniversary of his rise to power.

Never before in the last sorry decade of history has a January 30 passed without a two-hour speech by the Nazi fuehrer, expounding the fatal philosophy of Aryanism and promising extension of its rule of force throughout the world

Broadcasts from Berlin outlining the program for tomorrow said that Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering will deliver a pep talk to Nazi soldiers battling on the Russian front and that Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels will read a message from Hitler.

But there was no mention of the address the fuehrer has delivered annually on this date from behind a battery of microphones in the Berlin Sportspalast or the Kroll opera house. London observers interpreted this omission as meaning that for some reason or other, Hitler will refrain from making the speech which for the last ten years has been a January "fixture", expected by the talked-at German people and the world as a whole.

U. S. Bombers Hit Destroyer

(International News Service)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, in North Africa, Jan. 29.—Four American B-25 bombers, cruising 100 miles northeast of Tunis, set fire to an enemy destroyer with two direct hits and probably disabled another with near misses which apparently damaged the rudder and propeller, it was revealed today in a communique from Allied headquarters.

The bombers, sister ships of the planes that bombed Tokyo, were escorted by Lockheed Lightning fighters.

One of the enemy ships was listing badly as the bombers broke off the attack. The progress of the other appeared to have been halted. All bombers returned safely to their base.

Giraud-DeGaulle Settlement Is Not Political Decision

(International News Service)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 29.—Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, French high commissioner for North Africa, told war correspondents today that his agreement with Gen. Charles De Gaulle, Fighting French leader, is a military and economic one only.

"There was no political settlement," the aged hero of this and the last war said.

He emphasized that all military, economic and financial matters were solved while political aspects of their discussions were avoided.

British Eighth Army Advances

Pushes Westward From Tripoli After Retreating Remnant Of Rommel's Army

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

CAIRO, Jan. 29.—Spearheads of the British Eighth Army advanced today on the approaches to the Libyan port of Zuara, 65 miles west of Tripoli.

Artillery batteries of the British and the retreating Axis rear guard exchanged fire in the coastal sector near Zuara, the Middle East high command announced in a communique.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces were reported making steady progress to the west in the direction of the Tunisian frontier.

Bad weather hampered air activity over the battlefront.

Other Allied aircraft, however, again soared over southern Italy to renew attacks against railway communications. Aerial assaults also were made on the island of Sicily.

The high command said that southern Italy was blasted from the air both yesterday and Wednesday night.

Nazi Ship Yards Badly Damaged

International News Service

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 29—The Royal Air Force attack on Copenhagen Wednesday "practically wiped out" the Burmeister and Wain's ship yards, it was reliably reported today.

German-controlled reports of the bombing, however, still do not mention the Burmeister and Wain's yards which were the chief target. Other damage was reported in detail.

One bomb which remained unexploded was said to have forced the evacuation of 5,000 persons from nearby homes. Another was said to have exploded near King Christian's church, smashing 1,000 church windows and blowing in the doors which resulted in damage to the interior of the 17th century edifice.

BATHING BEAUTY GETS DIVORCE FROM WEALTHY HUSBAND

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Gloria Farrell Barstow, 23, runner-up for the 1940 title of "Miss Philadelphia," was divorced January 6 from her estranged husband, Harry M. M. Barstow, Jr., 29, scion of a wealthy Atlantic City family, it was confirmed today.

Attorney Clarence Blitz said Mrs. Barstow charged "indignities to person." He added that he thinks Mrs. Barstow is now in Beverly Hills, Cal., in connection with a possible moving picture contract.

Mrs. Barstow waived alimony rights, the family attorney said.

President Flies 14,000 Miles In Recent Trips

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The first president ever to fly while holding office, President Roosevelt today has crossed the Atlantic twice and according to latest reports has so far flown approximately 14,400 miles—more than half the distance around the world—on his historic allied planning trip.

In flying from Washington to Casablanca in North Africa where he conferred with Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt crossed the Atlantic and, it was estimated, the flight was 9,300 miles.

After the conference, Mr. Roosevelt flew to Liberia with one intervening stop—3,100 more miles. Then the president again hopped the Atlantic, stopping at Natal, Brazil, where he met Brazilian President Vargas. This flight was 2,000 miles.

In addition to setting up a record as the "flyingest" president, Mr. Roosevelt has become the first president who ever left the U. S. while the nation was at war and the first president since Abraham Lincoln to visit an actual theater of war.

FARM POLICIES UNDER ATTACK

Three Major Farm Organizations Seek Changes In U. S. Farm Program

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—The administration's farm policies today were under attack by the heads of three major national farm organizations who declared that it is imperative for the government to do an immediate about-face in its farm program

Albert S. Goss, master of the national grange; Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Ezra T. Benson, executive secretary of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, opposed the use of subsidies and charged that the "farmers are handicapped and the food supply jeopardized by:

"1. The government's manpower and labor policies.

"2. The confusion and loss of confidence created by an impractical and wasteful bureaucracy more concerned with social experimentation than the production of food and

"3. The policy of using subsidies in lieu of a fair return to the farmer in the market-place."

Heavy Snow In Pittsburgh Area

Somerset County Reports 12-Inch Snowfall On Top Of Seven On Ground

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29—Yesterday's sudden snowfall swept eastward today, leaving a five-inch mantle of white covering most of western Pennsylvania. One death was reported in the western end of the state, and two others in the east.

The snow literally buried most of Somerset county with a 12-inch fall piling on top of seven inches already on the ground. Schools at Berlin were closed at noon yesterday when it seemed the roadways would be impassable.

The death in western Pennsylvania occurred in Bedford county, where a milkman found the body of Irvin Ickes, 13, of Wolfburg and his sled under a blanket of snow. It was believed the youth had been hit by a car and died under the drifts.

The other deaths were reported at Allentown and Wernersville.

For the Pittsburgh area, Weatherman W. S. Brotzman said no more snow today and moderate temperatures.

PRICE BOOSTED ON BOTH DETROIT PAPERS

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Jan. 29.—The Detroit Free Press today joined the Detroit Times in announcing that, effective Monday, Feb. 1, the price for a daily paper will be boosted from three to four cents, and that of Sunday papers hiked from 10 to 12 cents. The Times is an afternoon paper and the Free Press a morning paper.

Allied Forces May Attempt To Prevent Rommel's Army Joining Nazis In Tunisia

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—An allied campaign to prevent Nazi General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Afrika Korps retreating westward out of Libya from effecting a junction with the main Axis forces in northeast Tunisia appeared under way today.

The Algiers radio said that American troops in an eastward push toward the Tunisian coast had occupied the town and railway junction of Maknassy in south-central Tunisia.

Whether this report was the basis for a subsequent Axis announcement was not clear but almost immediately thereafter the Nazi-controlled Paris radio said that the American thrust was aimed at driving through to the coast between the ports of Sfax and Gabes in order to keep Rommel separated from other Axis forces in Tunisia.

Americans Near Shore

Capture of Maknassy would place the Americans within 35 miles of the shore of the gulf of Gabes. Sfax is situated approximately 60 miles to the northeast and the port of Gabes a similar distance to the southeast.

It was recalled that an American force early this week successfully

Reveal Roosevelt Made Liberia Visit

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—President Roosevelt's visit to Liberia today was seen likely to cement the military alliance which now binds together the U. S. and that tiny negro republic on the west coast of Africa.

Disclosure that the president had visited Liberia to pay his respects to President Erwin Barclay and review a large detachment of American negro troops following the historic North African strategy conference was made by the White House.

The White House last night received a dispatch datelined Monrovia, Liberia, Jan. 28, which revealed that upon conclusion of the strategy conference at Casablanca Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill motored to Marrakech, some 150 miles to the south. The two great democratic leaders spent the night there and parted the next day, with the president flying to Liberia, stopping once on the way.

The dispatch was signed by Capt. George Durno, of the United States Army Air Corps, and former White House correspondent for the International News Service.

Says Yanks Had Large Share In Rommel's Rout

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Brig. Gen. Elmer E. Adler, who has just returned to Washington after more than a year of duty in India and the Middle East, disclosed today that the U. S. 9th Air Force played a large part in the rout of German Field Marshall Erwin Rommel's army.

Adler, who served as second in command of the 9th Air Force, informed the war department that the U. S. Air Forces "probably contributed more to the defeat of Rommel than we can yet realize."

For the Libyan campaign opened by Lieut. Gen. Bernard Montgomery's British Eighth Army, the American 9th Air Force was organized as two task forces and attached to the RAF, he explained.

These forces—a desert task force and a heavy bombardment task force—struck "many hard and effective blows" in the battle which has driven the Fascist armies in headlong flight across Libya and Tripolitania, Adler said.

The aerial offensive in which U. S. fighter planes participated, he added, resulted in "almost complete destruction" of German and Italian air power in the desert during a major part of the campaign. The war department said observers reported that for days they had not seen a single enemy plane over the Eighth Army during its advance through Libya.

Getting Supplies To China Is Big Task For Allies

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—As a result of the fall of Burma, the amount of American aid going to China is "pitifully small," Lend-Lease Administrator E. R. Stettinius told the House foreign affairs committee today, but he added that every effort is being made to increase supplies.

"Supplies," he said, "are being flown across the highest mountains in the world under conditions that might seem impossible. But they are getting through.

"They are getting through in pitifully small amounts in terms of what China needs, but at an accelerating rate. We will not—and we should not—stop until all ingenuity and every effort is expended to move more aid to China."

Presidents Of U. S. And Brazil Confer On War

Part Of Brazil In Coming Great Allied Offensive Is Discused

ROOSEVELT MAKES STOP IN BRAZIL

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—President Roosevelt's historic meeting with President Getulio Vargas of Brazil was expected to result in that powerful Latin-American nation playing an important military role in the Casablanca plan for a major Allied invasion of the European continent this year.

Mr. Roosevelt's action in stopping off in Brazil on his way home from the North African strategy conference was hailed in diplomatic circles in Washington as a move to rally South America behind the 1943 Allied grand strategy plan for smashing the Axis in Europe.

Brazil To Lead

Latin-American diplomatic spokesmen foresaw Brazil leading the 11 central and South American nations which already have declared war against the Axis in making an important contribution to the victory plan drafted by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill in North Africa.

The American chief executive following his second crossing of the Atlantic by air, is believed to have outlined in detail to President Vargas the plans made at the North African conference for an all-out Allied drive to cripple Hitler's military might in Europe this year.

A spokesman for the Brazilian embassy in Washington predicted that his country will contribute to the Allied offensive in Africa and in Europe not only by helping to keep open the vital supply lines across the south Atlantic, but also by the possible dispatch of a strong expeditionary force to the fighting front.

Keep Lines Open

"Brazil's navy and air force will help keep open the vital Allied supply lines across the south Atlantic to Africa and Soviet Russia," the spokesman said.

"It will also be recalled that President Getulio T. Vargas announced sometime ago that Brazil

Believe Germany Plans Peace Appeal

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Despite President Roosevelt's "unconditional surrender" declaration at Casablanca, there is every indication that Germany will launch a new and more determined peace offensive in the very near future, the diplomatic writer of the Daily Mail said today.

There is no doubt that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill had such a Nazi scheme in mind as they conferred in Morocco, he said.

Reliable information from inside Germany, the writer pointed out, and hints in capitals where German agents are at work show that a new peace appeal is on the way.

Allied Bombers Smash Japanese Bases

Attacks Made On 1200 Mile Front

Attacks Are Made From Amboina To New Britain Island Says Report

MUCH DAMAGE RESULT OF RAIDS

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Jan. 29.—Allied bombers smashed at Japanese bases on a 1,200-mile front from Amboina to New Britain island, an Allied communique reported today as the Japanese retaliated with a weak raid on Merauke on the south shore of New Guinea. Enemy float planes dropped two bombs in a swamp area.

Allied bombers blasted enemy bases in five areas. Attacks were made of Wewak, Finschhafen and Mubo in New Guinea, on three points on New Britain island, on the Fuiloro airdrome in Timor, on the Binnen bay district of Amboina, and on the Aroe islands south of New Guinea.

Small enemy vessels were bombed and machine gunned at Open Bay and Wide Bay on New Britain island. One cargo ship was damaged by near hits and another small ship capsized during the attack. A Japanese-held coastal village was machine-gunned.

Japanese military installations at Wewak, Finschhafen and Mubo were bombed and strafed by heavy bombers and attack planes. Long-range fighters carried out a heavy attack on the airdrome at Fuiloro on Timor island.

One of five Zero fighters attempting to intercept a formation of heavy bombers was shot down, and an enemy float plane was destroyed in the attack on Dubo, in the Aroe islands.

Special Fuel Orders Issued On East Coast

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. — The O.P.A. today delegated special authority to its regional administrators in the east coast area to establish priorities among fuel oil consumers in an emergency "which endangers the public health or welfare or the war effort."

Regional administrators in Boston, New York, Atlanta and Cleveland were authorized to restrict deliveries of fuel oil in any manner necessary to meet the emergency, regardless of other provisions of C.F.A. fuel oil rationing regulations.

THREE GERMAN GENERALS TAKEN SAYS MOSCOW

abandoning their arms and surrendering individually and in groups as Russian troops closed in relentlessly.

One Soviet unit captured several fortified points and forced the surrender of 240 Germans. The amount of war material being seized is increasing steadily, the communique said.

Offensive operations were continued on the southern front in the direction of the Caucasus gateway city of Rostov and several Nazi counter-attacks were repulsed.

"Our forces captured a number of fortified points and a large quaintity of war material," the communique said.

Two companies of infantry were reported wiped out on the southwestern front as the Russians marched forward and captured another inhabited locality.

Drive In Caucasus

The drive through the northern Caucasus moved steadily forward and in one stiff battle in the streets of an unnamed locality the Russians killed 240 of the enemy and took a large number of prisoner.

"On another sector," the communique continued, "our forces penetrated to the enemy rear and cut off a large column. Fighting for the liquidation of this column is continuing."

As the Red armies closed in on key defense points on the German winter line they struck to within 80 miles of Kursk and threatened strategic rail centers in the north Caucasus.

Red army forces captured Kostornoye in a drive west of Voronezh which put Soviet vanguards 80 miles east of Kursk, the great Nazi base 300 miles south of Moscow.

In the Caucasus Soviet columns drove close to the rail centers of Kropotkin and Tikhoretsk and encircled Nazi forces in the oil center of Maikop. The town of Gulkevichi, seven miles outheast of Kropotkin, was occupied by Russian tank spearheads driving north along the rail line from Armavir.

Other Russian forces pushing west from Armavir, occupied Mihailovskaya and Petropavovskaya in a 33-mile advance towards the Black Sea. These thrusts threatened to cut off German forces in Maikop, the one Russian oil area that was captured by the enemy in the Caucasus offensive.

Admits Rayon Hose Sent Abroad In Lend-Lease Ships

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., the lend lease administrator, today admitted to congress that rayon hose were shipped to North Africa in lend-lease vessels but denied that beer and powder puffs also had been sent abroad.

Stettinius, appearing before the House Foreign Affairs committee's hearing on a bill to extend the $60,000,000,000 lend lease program, said that the hose were bought by the treasury procurement authority.

Stettinius made his admission as he at first uttered a blanket denial of charges made from the floor of the house yesterday, when Rep Jones (R) Ohio, alleged that beer and powder puffs and rayon hose had been shipped abroad under the lend lease program.

STATE BATTLES SEVERE STORM

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—More than 6,000 employes of the Department of Highways strove today to keep 20,000 miles of roads open to traffic after a severe snowstorm blanketed the entire state.

All roads were open, the department reported, with the exception of two in Cumberland county. Highways were reported generally slippery throughout the state and cinders were being spread on grades and curves.

The snow in some instances reached a depth of more than a foot.

JUDGE HUMES DIES AT WILLIAMSPORT

(International News Service)

WILIAMSPORT Pa., Jan. 29.—Believed to have suffered a heart attack, Judge Samuel H. Humes, 42, died today in a hospital two hours after he was found unconscious in a snowdrift.

The jurist was discovered only a few feet away from a school where he had been scheduled to make an address. When he failed to appear, a search was begun for him.

Judge Humes is survived by his widow, three sons and his mother. Elected in 1939, his term would have expired in 1950.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Jones, of Miller avenue, seeing the item, called up Pa Newc, saying that Pittsburgh girl had nothing on us, and that a girl driver brought her groceries. The driver is Miss Helen Hudak, and has been employed at the West Side Market for two weeks, and we are informed that she is doing a good job. A few weeks ago she asked Miss Berkley, daughter of the proprietor, if there was a position open at their store, and she was told that they needed a driver, as her brother, Joe Berkley, who was their driver, had gone to Camp Howze, Tex. Miss Hudak said, "I'll take that job," thus she is helping in solving manpower.

A timely kick in the right place aimed to have passenger service on the B. & L. E. railroad restored, has been effective, Pa Newc notes. The PUC has rescinded its order to discontinue service and individuals along the B. & L. E. right of way between North Bessemer and Greenville will again be able to ride the train between those points.

Auto "pleasure driving" seems to have a different interpetration by many autoists, judging from the way that the order is being observed by large numbers of drivers.

PRESIDENT OF U. S. AND BRAZIL CONFER ON WAR

hoped to send an expeditionary force abroad to help defeat the Axis.

"In addition to serving as an important base of operations for the United Nations forces in the south Atlantic, Brazil will further contribute to the success of the Allied offensives this year by making available an increased supply of vital raw materials."

Because of its geographical position and strength, Brazil is considered to be in a position to lead Latin America's contribution to the war effort of the United Nations.

With its land "bulge" extending like a bridge toward West Africa, Brazil is one of the most vital links in the American supply line to Africa, Russia and India. It also possesses the largest army in South America, the second biggest navy and the largest merchant marine in the western hemisphere next to that of the United States.

Our vocabularies arn't so limited. We avoid many a good word because we can't remember how to pronounce it.

LATEST THRUSTS IN GUADALCANAL AREA BY JAPS REPULSED

their smashing blows against enemy bases and shipping in the south Pacific.

Four Actions

Four sepraate actions occurred on Jan. 27. In brief, they were:

1. U. S. Army ground forces captured a well established enemy command post on Guadalcanal, killed 36 Japanese and took three prisoners along with a large amount of equipment. Other forces wiped out two pockets of Japanese resistance.

2. American fighter planes repelled another attempt by Japanese dive and torpedo bombers, escorted by pursuit planes, to blast Henderson airfield. Nine Jap Zeros were destroyed and six others probably shot down while four U. S. planes were reported missing.

Hit New Airfield

3. U. S. twin engine Martin bombers, escorted by Airacobra fighters bombed enemy installations on Kilombangara Island in the southern Solomons, where a new enemy airfield was located recently.

4. In a dusk attack dauntless dive bombers and avenger torpedo planes attacked a Jap destroyer and cargo ship in the central Solomons. The cargo ship was left sinking and the warship was seen smoking.

The following day American dive bombers, torpedo planes, and speedy lightning fighters attacked an undisclosed number of Jap ships 15 miles northeast of Kolombangara. The destroyer was hit squarely by a torpedo and a large explosion resulted. The cargo ship and tanker were left "dead" in the water and the latter was seen smoking.

One of the four Jap Zeros which attempted to fight off the attack was shot down but no U. S. planes were lost.

Heavy Bombing Attack On Sfax

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 29—The heaviest bombing attack since the Allied campaign in Tunisia began was carried out by a large squadron of American Mitchell B-25 bombers against the Axis-held port of Sfax on the eastern Tunisian coast today.

Four waves of Mitchell bombers pounded the port, causing considerable damage to harbor installations, warehouses, railroad yards, tracks, cars and barracks.

Kids of 18 and 19 may not be the soundest. One board rejected 25 per cent—chiefly for unsuspected heart trouble.

ALLIED FORCES MAY SEEK TO PREVENT TUNISIA JUNCTION

raided Maknassy in answer to a German challenge to "come out and fight". After making off with 80 prisoners the Americans retired.

That such a drive to keep the Axis forces separated is contemplated if not already in progress was indicaetd in a brief Reuter dispatch from allied headquarters in North Africa.

It may be assumed, the dispatch said, that a conference of allied military leaders held at allied headquarters following the historic Casablanca meeting specific plans for immediate action on the Tunisian front to prevent an effective junction of Rommel's forces with those of the north was discussed.

A more extensive conference will be held in the future to consider the next move from North Africa to Europe at the end of the North African campaign, it was added.

GOWANDA CLUB GUESTS AT DINNER GATHERING

Gowanda club members were delightfully entertained Thursday evening at a prettily appointed dinner party served in the guest room of Epworth Methodist church, with Mrs. William Thornton presiding in the role of hostess. Fifteen participated.

After partaking of the delicious full course turkey menu served at a table arranged with spring flowers, the time was spent most informally.

Mrs. Louella Reese was a special guest of the occasion.

C. B. Club Entertained

In the Winter avenue home of Mrs. Robert Houston, members of the C. B. club were entertained in a delightful manner Thursday evening, with Mrs. C. B. Bates, Mrs. McConnus and Mrs. Keenan sharing as guests.

Cards were in play, with Mrs. Carl Frazier winning the prize.

After partaking of a tasty repast, plans were made to meet Thursday, Feb. 11, with Mrs. Amy Wink, East Washington street.

Tri-Circle Club

Members of the Tri-Circle club enjoyed an interesting review given by Mrs. R. M. Patterson of the book "Understanding Myself" by Roy Dickerson at a recent meeting at the Y. W. C. A. Their meeting Wednesday was held at 8 p. m., following a council meeting.

WESTMINSTER GUILD HEARS MISSIONARY

Mrs. Don Hanna, Croton avenue, opened her home to members of the Westminster Guild of Central Presbyterian church Thursday evening, when they had the pleasure of hearing as speaker Miss Melinda Walker, returned missionary.

"Navajo Indians" was the theme of Miss Walkers topic, and she had on display a collection of trinkets and articles typical of the Indian tribe.

A social period ensued, with the hostess serving lunch. She was aided by her mother, Mrs. Florence Cartwright, and Miss Emma Maxwell.

The next meeting on Thursday, February 25, will be with Mrs. Clifford Probst, North Beaver street.

SHOWER THURSDAY FOR MRS. R. PATTON

Mrs. George McCracken of Haus avenue entertained at a lovely party Thursday evening in her home, the occasion honoring Mrs. Robert L. Patton, nee Doris Smith, bride of Robert L. Patton, seaman second class.

The event was in the form of a shower, and the honoree was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

The time was spent informally with contests, and at the close, the hostess served a tasty collation by candlelight.

CASTRUCCI-RAINEY NUPTIAL CEREMONY

Miss Lyda Dolores Castrucci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Castrucci of 208 West Madison avenue, became the bride of Thomas Edward Rainey, son of Alderman and Mrs. T. C. Rainey, 109 North Liberty street, on Thursday morning, the quiet but impressive ceremony being performed before a beautifully embanked altar of palms and ferns in St. Lucy's church.

Vows were exchanged by the young couple at 10 o'clock, the Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito officiating, using the double ring service in the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white taffeta gown, made entrain, with full skirt, leg o'mutton sleeves and sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was of white tulle, edged with dainty lace, and was caught in a peaked crown of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, centered with an orchid. As her only jewelry she wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Angeline Castrucci, as her sister's maid of honor, was charming in a gown of yellow taffeta and net with flowered tiara and shoulder length veil. Her accessories were of waterfall green, and she carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

Bridesmaids were Misses Mary Castruci, Lena Castrucci, Elva Augostine and Stella Masters. Little Donna Jean Masters was the junior bridesmaid.

Domenick Picarro served the bridegroom as best man.

A congratulatory period was held at the church, and supplementing the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Rainey residence.

At 1 o'clock the wedding dinner was served to friends and relatives numbering to 200 at the Christopher Columbus hall, where a reception was held in the evening for the couple's many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Rainey departed on a western wedding trip later in the evening.

Mrs. Rainey, a graduate of the local high school, class of January 1939, is associated with the Employment Service, East Washington street. Mr. Rainey, a graduate of the local high school, class of June 1938, and the Bowman Technical school of Lancaster, Pa., class of 1942, is in jewelry business with his father, North Liberty street.

Out-of-town guests who attended the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Ellery of Akron, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Antoline, Monaco; Mrs. Mary Zullo, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. William Castrucci, Girard, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Augostine DePiero of Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DePiero of Ashtabula, O.; Frank Castrucci, Youngstown; Mrs. Ida Amnrosini, Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. Domenick Nolfi, Warren, O.; Mrs. Stanley Castrucci, Girard; Mrs. Dan Thomas, Coraopolis; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Thomas, and Mrs. Christina Manna, Youngstown.

Missionary Meeting

Missionary Society of Calvary Gospel Tabernacle met in the home of Mrs. Clara Bovard, 926 East Washington street, Thursday evening. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Edna McConnell, Mrs. Nannie Swan and Mrs. Hazel Brunton.

During the program, letters were read from the following missionaries: Mrs. Earl Staples of Madison Va., Miss Carolyn Weyman of Yeaddish, Ky., and Miss Edith Imhoff of Kaimjang, India. Interesting talks were given by Mrs. Edith Kerr on "Elizabeth" and Mrs. Edna McConnell about "Sarah."

Lunch was served by the hostess, aided by co-hostess Mrs. Eva Carver.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Nannie Swan, 924 Temple avenue, Thursday, February 18, with Mrs. Hazel Brunton as co-hostess.

C. U. C. Club

CRUCIAL BATTLE

WHEN the crucial battle of the war in Europe will be fought—the battle that will result in unconditional surrender by the Axis and the occupation of all Axis territory by armies of the United Nations—is in the laps of the gods. Several Allied victories, of catastrophic effect upon the Nazis, coming in quick succession, may result in collapse of German morale and put an end to hostilities sooner than the most optimistic now hope for.

No caution observer is making a prediction of this kind, even privately. Military experts protess to see a gradual weakening of German power as the result of much hard fighting which is still to be engaged in, rather than a sudden collapse of the enemy.

The overwhelming preponderance of opinion among trained observers is that current Allied successes in Russia and in Africa, and RAF bombings of Germany, are regarded as having unwarranted significance by many, perhaps a majority, of Americans. They hold that the war news proves that the tide has turned against the Axis, but that there is as yet no development upon which to base hope of an early end to fighting in Europe—an end that can come only with the unconditional surrender of Hitler.

Instead of discussion of the possible termination of the conflict in Europe, there is conjecture in informed quarters as to the possible geographical trend of the fighting. And in particular schools of thought are springing up as to where the climactic battle of the war will be fought. Obviously, there will be such a battle.

Will Hitler, his armies decimated and routed, run up the white flag after a final bloody battle with the Russians, perhaps in Poland? The experts do no think so. They do not believe that the final blow will be struck on the Eastern Front, even though the Nazis are driven back to the borders of Germany.

If the possibility of German defeat on the Eastern Front is ruled out, a dozen spots immediately present themselves as the possible site for administering of the coup de grace. France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Italy—to mention only a few. And in the popular mind at least too much hope has been placed upon a possible Allied advance into Germany through Italy. Invasion of Italy may be in the cards, but the route from Italy to Germany through the Brenner Pass would be hazardous and would require much time and effort for successful consumation.

Driving the Germans out of Norway, if an Allied invasion is made there, will be a step nearer total German defeat but will not necessarily bring it about. Thus France and the Lowlands remain as the possible scene of the final struggle of the conflict. Whether the Allies will undertake a gigantic invasion from this angle to engage the enemy for the kill depends upon many factors, including the length of the war and the progress of United Nations efforts on other fronts.

But there can be little doubt that this war will produce a crucial battle, perhaps the greatest military encounter in history, in which the Nazis will be completely defeated. The site of this disaster for Germany may be the result of chance instead of deliberate planning, as were many big battle in history.

QUEST FOR STRATEGIC METALS

Before the United States became involved in the war Tom M. Girdler, steel mill executive, declared that the time might come when the nation would willingly exchange all the gold in the Fort Knox vaults for manganese and chromium, indispensable to the manufacture of steel.

The prediction caused South Dakota mining men to survey the mineral resources of their state. According to experts, elements vital to steel making—manganese, tin and tungsten—are found in South Dakota in quantities sufficient to warrant exploitation in case of national emergency.

Most abundant of these is manganese, found along the Missouri river near the town of Chamberlain. Although investigators of the United States Bureau of Mines have found no high-grade manganese beds, they have proved that the deposits are more extensive than was previously suspected. To mine and concentrate the ore down to the grade required by steel makers would be extremely expensive, but in the opinion of E. D. Gardner, chief of the bureau, it can be done. Considerable quantities of tin and tungsten are known to exist in the Black Hills. All tin specimens from the state brought to the bureau's attention have been small and low grade, but war conditions may justify exploitation. This also applies to known tungsten deposits there.

Present attention is being concentrated on beryllium, which is used in an alloy with copper to form a bronze used in many different types of machinery, such as bearings and springs. Beryllium oxide forms part of the powder coating in fluorescent tubes for lighting equipment.

Before the war most of the country's supply of beryllium came from Brazil, Argentina and South Africa. In 1941 nearly all of the beryllium produced in the United States came from the Black Hills. At the request of the WPB a research council composed of professors of the South Dakota School of Mines and financed by the General Electric Company, has been established at Rapid City. The purpose is to locate, if possible, sources of beryllium from which the United States may obtain a large proportion of its wartime requirements. The large crystals have been mined principally as a by-product of feldspar, mica and lithium; the small crystals have been ignored. These may now be worth mining, particularly because of the advance from a peacetime price of $30 a ton for beryllium to about $100.

The search for strategic minerals is being pushed in other areas of the United Nations. A United States mission of experts recently arrived in Australia to assist in the development of new mining projects which would operate independently of lease-lend agreements. Sources of zinc, lead, tin and tantalite are among the chief of objectives.

Uncle Sam is now $115,000,000,000 in debt and not a suggestion has been offered as to how to un-prime the pump.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MAKING COMPARISONS CRUEL TO CHILD

When one child of the family learns better at school than a brother or sister, the less successful child is likely to feel inferior, grow more discouraged and, in consequence, lag still more. Teachers are inclined to make unfavorable comparisons, and so are parents and other relatives.

Among the greatest cruelties to children at home is the unfavorable comparison of two children, holding one up as a model to the other in behavior or school progress. What painful scenes there are in hundreds of families when the report cards come home.

About the most unhappy experience for any child is for an older one at school to have a younger brother or sister catch up to him and be in the same grade. Arriving there, the younger soon forges ahead. Imagine yourself in the place of this older child. Suppose, then, you have had to repeat one or two grades. Or suppose you have not repeated any grades nor skipped any but that your younger brother or sister has skipped enough to catch up to you.

A mother writes:

"Dear Dr. Myers:—I have two girls, one is 12 years old and the other 10. The older one had to take the third grade in school two years so that let the younger one catch up to her. They are both going into the sixth grade this year, but the older one is just going in on the lowest marks she could get and be promoted.

"She is poor in spelling and reading so of course everything is hard for her. She goes to school because she has to, but she keeps telling us she wants to quit."

In such cases, as I wrote this mother, your problem is to find ways, cooperating with the school, to help the lagging child, if at all possible, to get on better at school. She certainly needs to have encouragement and not be reminded of the excellence of her younger sister. Moreover, this younger child may need guidance so as not to gloat over her own successes.

The lagging child needs to gain satisfaction from good or excellent achievement in some other branches, such as skill at doing things about the house, entertaining guests, or dexterity at creative endeavors and play with other children. You should strive to help the trailing child feel worthwhile in the family group and in as many other ways as possible.

There also is the opposite type of case in which the older child has always excelled and the younger lagged. Almost surely then some teacher will remind the younger child with "When your sister (or brother) was in this grade." I wish I might prevail on teachers to be on guard against this harmful treatment of a younger child. Whether teacher or parent, let us try to help the child compete with his own best efforts rather than with the achievement of any other child.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My five-year-old girl speaks very rapidly and indistinctly and has trouble with such combinations as th, st, s. After she watches and listens to me she is usually able to do it correctly, but she is not always willing to try.

A. Go on in your very patient, gentle manner helping your child, but stop the moment she loses interest or is vexed. It might appeal to her sometimes to look at her mouth and yours in the mirror as you work together on this. Read a great deal to her enunciating very distinctly. Try to create a very calm atmosphere. You might find some helpful suggestions in my bulletins, "Nervous habits in the child," and "The Nervous Mother," to be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it for each bulletin.

The World and the Mud Puddles

ENDLESS RED TAPE

Announcement by the War Production Board that an office has been established in Washington to handle complaints about questionnaires makes music for the ears. Businessmen who get questionnaires which they feel cannot be answered are now invited to bring their confusions to James Clay Woodson in Washington. This move followed steps in Congress to simplify the forms sent out by Government agencies to industries.

And none too soon! For the wrinkled brow and questionnaire jitter are besetting the nation. Already panting with the exertions of extra war time demands and depleted office staffs, executives of countless firms have been handed an infinite amount of paper recording. Among the many questionnaires issued by the Office of Defense Transportation is one to Motor Transport Agencies with eighteen technical questions to be filled in daily, weekly, and monthly, for Washington's delectation. Another industry also reports that many of its members fill out from 50 to 200 lengthy questionnaires each year. We've all been wondering who has time to read such stupendous reports once they get to Washington!

There's sure to be a well-worn path to Mr. Woodson's door. For when he finds that questionnaire confusions burden industry more than they help the war program, he will so inform the WPB, which will have power to veto such forms. Mr. Woodson, with 25 years experience as an engineer and manufacturer should have the point of view of industry and should prove sympathetic toward its dire need for simplification.

Business Apprehensive Of Future
Fear Socialization After The War
Committee For Development Formed

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Business is apprehensive of some sort of socialization of itself after the war if times are hard. Its leaders naturally want to remain independent, and are doing their best with a program to prevent the pinch that they fear upon peace-time's return. Not that they are not desperately anxious to have it come—of course with victory for the United Nations. However, they are quite out-spokenly fearful that it will alter our whole industrial, commercial and miscellaneous economic life.

Hence the recent organization of a privately-financed group to have all its plans made for dealing with the situation, however it may develop.

I would think its members would know in advance just how it WILL develop, left to itself, exactly as after all previous wars, back into ancient history — a hectic little boom and then a prolonged depression. And, undoubtedly, that's what the worried moguls DO anticipate. This outfit's mission is less to ascertain what WILL happen as to hit on a policy that will KEEP it from happening, all natural law to the contrary notwithstanding.

For it to have an alphabetic designation is imperative in the present era, so it's known as the CED, which translates into the Committee for Economic Development.

As previously remarked, it is strictly non-official.

To be sure, Uncle Sam has provided it with quarters under the commerce department's roof. It will co-operate with the department's experts, though trying to be more expert than they are.

Little Love Lost

My personal hunch is that little love is lost between the CED and the CD (commerce department).

It behooves the department to be on friendly terms with such a bunch as CED. Contrariwise, it adds to the CED's prestige to lodge in the same quarters with a federal department.

Incidentally, I think that CED's officialdom likes to be in close touch with the department for purposes of observation.

CED, mind you, is suspicious of socialistic tendencies on the New Dealers' part, and the association gives the former an opportunity for close observation of the latter's activities.

The relationship is called "co-operation," though.

But later?

Probably that's what it is while the war lasts.

President Paul G. Hoffman of the Studebaker corporation is CED's chairman.

There is a research committee, assigned to rake over a wide field of taxation and monetary policy.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

It's certainly a scientific age we are living in and if the government has anything to do with it each one of us will soon be reduced to a scientific formula.

The OPA now has established a "performance minimum" for love seats and upholstered chairs and three tests have been devised for the victory bedspring, that new substitute for the good old coil made of metal, that used to rock us to peaceful sleep—without science without tests, without OPA.

I am not going into the details of the test—they would bore you, involving as they do "criteria," 12-inch discs, 40-pound sandbags and seven sacks of cement, each weighing a hundred pounds.

But after I read the government report dealing with this latest concoction of a government brain, I went to bed and had some awful dreams.

I was sitting on a love seat with my best girl (this was a dream), quietly holding hands.

Suddenly an OPA man opened the door, without knocking, a hundred pound bag of cement in his hand.

He looked at the girl and at me, just sitting there lovingly, looking at each other.

"Is that your performance minimum?" he asked disapprovingly. "You are not obeying the standard set by the OPA."

Hit hit me over the head with the cement bag, dragged the other six bags in, threw them on the love seat next to the girl, jumped on top of the bags, hopping up and down, faster and faster and shouted:

"That's a performance minimum! That's a performance minimum!"

The girl fainted. I woke up shouting, and my wife drowsily remarked: "It's too bad you have to eat those cheese sandwiches before going to bed."

The next dream was about that 12-inch disc. It had sharp teeth in it and went round and round, coming closer and closer to my throat.

But why go on? It's too horrible, and it was only a dream, anyway.

Or was it? When I opened my mail this morning there was a letter from the treasury department with my income tax blanks and another from the OPA containing the questionnaire I must fill out to get my new gasoline rationing book.

Maybe nightmares aren't so bad, after all.

The Nazis examined the North African caucus through the small end of the field glasses and found no Russians.

They are pleased that Stalin stayed home.

This is a form of oblique joy peculiar to the Nazi mind.

They would rather have Stalin in Moscow master-minding their destruction now than at Casablanca planning for it in the future.

They are gigling at the prospect of getting smitten fore and aft instead of just aft.

They seem to think it makes a difference whether you get run down by two tanks going in one direction or one tank going in two directions.

CRUELTY TO CARS

When Dobbin was man's faithful friend
There were of us, I'm grieved to tell,
A few who would so low descend
As not to treat him very well.
They used on him a heavy lash,
Compelling him too fast to run,
Nor would they feed sufficient mash
At evening when his work was done.

Such cruel men were haled to court
And some were jailed and some were fined
Until the most of them were taught
To animals they must be kind.
'Twas very strange and very sad
That some should decent care refuse
And would with spur and heavy gad
The truest friend they owned abuse.

Now times have changed, and some there are
With whom their country vainly pleads
To give unto their motor car
The sort of thoughtful care it needs.
"Drive slowly!" is the constant cry,
"Don't speed to accidents or fires!
Guard fenders with a watchful eye
And don't be cruel to your tires."

Don't drive too close to curbing stone.
To rush the motor wastes the power.
Be sure you do not drive alone.
Keep speed to thirty-five an hour.
Conserve the rubber, cured or raw,
Walk always when not going far,
And show you can, without a law,
Be kind unto your motor car.

Practice Air Raid Tests Suspended Until February 17

Halt Drills Until New Wartime Regulations On Signals Become Effective

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISURG, Jan. 29.—All practice blackouts and daylight air raid drills were ordered halted in Pennsylvania until after February 17, when new wartime regulations announced by the eastern defense command and the First Army will go into effect.

Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, executive director of the State Defense Council, said preliminary steps have been taken to bring Pennsylvania's procedure in line with the new regulations, which will unify all air raid systems along the Atlantic seaboard.

"The new system under which a public warning will be sounded on the blue signal preceding the actual air raid alarm will necessitate changes in the rules which have been promulgated by the State Council of Defense under the air raid precautions act," he explained.

The civilian defense head stated that the rules would be brought into conformity with the Army-prescribed system although enforcement would continue under the state's statutes. All local defense councils will be notified of the change "shortly", he added.

Morts disclosed that Adjutant General Robert M. Vail, vice chairman of the State Defense Council, had attended a meeting at Governors Island, New York, at which Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the eastern defense command and the First Army, explained the new warning system to civilian defense and army leaders from 14 eastern states.

Want Labor's Aid

It is a case in which capital is most wishful for labor's help.

It will be in capital's interest, certainly, but CED's thesis is that it will be equally to the interest of labor.

But will it WORK?

Since it never was tried out before, nobody knows.

Anyway, it is a case in which employerdom is trying to guarantee employment to workers, more distinctly for employerdom's benefit than for labor's.

It goes without saying that the demand for peacetime goods will be enormous with war's end. The problem is, though, will peacetime consumers be able to pay for what they require?

That is the question CED is trying to arrive at with a satisfactory economic answer achieved in advance of the emergency.

If it is not answered satisfactorily, what CED is afraid of is that the government will socialize us. And "business" doesn't fancy the notion of being socialized for the common benefit. It wants to MAKE MONEY.

In hating the prospect of hard times it is sincere all right—from its own standpoint.

But can it get away with it?

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 29.—After dragging out over a period of two months, the local Community Chest and War Fund drive finally reached its goal this week, when several pledges and late contributions were reported.

Actual cash deposits made to the Community Chest account amount to $996.50 or $3.50 under the goal of $1,000 set up by the board prior to the drive. With some $30 in pledges in the hands of Secretary-Treasurer William Byers, drive officials felt justified in reporting the drive as a success and having gone over the top.

Your Federal Income Tax

No. 23
DEPRECIATION (PART 1)

Among the deductions allowed in arriving at net income for Federal income tax purposes is depreciation. Depreciation may be sustained in connection with property giving rise to rental income shown in item 6 of return. Form 1040, or property used in business or profession, the net profit (or loss) from which is shown in item 9. The property must, of course, be owned by the taxpayer.

As relates to Federal income taxes depreciation is an allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear of property held for the production of income. The purpose underlying allowances for depreciation is to permit the taxpayer to recover over the useful life of the property the capital sum invested therein. The terms "used in trade or business" or "held for the production of income" would include property held for such purposes though actually not in use during the taxable year. Depreciation deductions are not allowable on property used for personal purposes, such as one's residence or its furnishings, or automobile or pleasure craft. However, if a taxpayer moves out of his house and rents it, it would become a rental property upon which a depreciation deduction would be allowable, or if a taxpayer used his car in part for business purposes, then a portion of the depreciation on the car, depending upon the relative use for business, would be allowable.

A distinction must be made between depreciation and what may be called fluctuation in value. In the case of an automobile, it is commonly said that once a car has been driven from a dealer's show room it becomes a second-hand car, and by that fact may lose a considerable amount of its value. However, only that part of the loss in value which is due to actual exhaustion, wear and tear in business use, during the year, maye be deducted as depreciation.

A further requirement in determining depreciation is that the property must have a limited and determinable useful life in the trade or business. Land, for instance, upon which a building is erected, is not depreciable, since it has no determinable life, and in setting up depreciation on real estate, a segregation must be made between the cost or other basis for the land, and the cost or other basis for the buildings.

The length of the useful life of a property is often a difficult matter of estimation. The useful life of a building, or a machine, the furniture used in a physician's office, a lawyer's professional library, or a tractor on a farm, depends on particular circumstances, including the character of the property and the character of its use. A well-built brick building may have a useful life of 50 years and a frame house 25 years, a piece of machinery five to 10 years, but in particular instances the useful life may vary considerably.

In depreciation deductions, the amount claimed must be supported by the data called for in Schedule J of the return form 1040. This schedule requires a statement of the kind of property being depreciated, the date acquired, the cost or other basis used in computing depreciation, the depreciated value at the end of the year, the depreciation allowed or allowable in prior years, and the remaining cost or other basis to be recovered, as well as the estimated life used in accumulating depreciation and the estimated remaining life at the beginning of the year.

Food Stamp Sales End February 27

John P. Brinton, executive secretary of the Public Assistance bureau, received notice that the practice of food stamp sales will be discontinued as of February 27. The notice was received from the Food Distribution Administration.

The revolving fund furnished by the county, $12,000, will be returned to the county commissioners and no more food stamps will be sold.

Might have known Henderson would get tougher. Elbert Hubbard always warned against keeping a man on the job after firing him.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers Are Outlined Here

VERSATILE PROGRAM

All study and no play makes Jack a dull boy. President Russell Melvin of the Auxiliary police is a firm believer in this and to make sure that OCD study shall not become monotonous arranges, at various times, a program with entertainment. Several interesting motion pictures have been displayed during the A.P. sessions which are held every Wednesday night on the third floor of the city building. And now that Willis G. McMullen, chief of police is recuperating fast and able to leave his home now and then the members of the A.P. are hopeful for a visit. Melvin stated today. The chief, fortified with a knowledge garnered only after years of intensive study, has played a prominent role in welding the organization into a most useful unit of the OCD.

ENROLLING IN ORGANIZATION

Christ Lutheran church, Beckford and East Washington street, has enrolled in the OCD and Wednesday night a committee representing their wardens met with OCD officials to further work of the church wardens. They will go through study in order to be certified.

NEW CANDIDATES PRESENT

Wardens group of the Third precinct of the Sixth ward convened Wednesday at the Ayers residence, West Washington street. A number of candidates for warden roles were present. February 10 at eight p. m. there will be a similar meeting at the Marshall residence, 618 Etna street.

AUXILIARY POLICE

John W. Kroen, 202 Winter avenue.
Frank C. Conner, 422 Fairmont avenue.

OATH NOT YET TAKEN

Persons who are requested to subscribe to the oath of office having completed their OCD study in various branches, are as follows:

AIR RAID WARDENS

W. J. Kinnard, 712 Emerson avenue.
Sara A. Rose, 913 Maryland avenue.
Hazel Lowers, 919 Hazel street.
Anna A. Nene, 917 Maryland avenue.
Hannah C. Piper, 910 Rose avenue.
L. E. McCreary, 1323 East Washington street.

MESSENGERS

Nancy Bechtol, 714 Monroe street.
Richard Fassinger, 913 E. Washington street.
Ruth Kramer, 210 North Ray street.
Virginia Fassinger, 913 E. Washington street.
Betty Anthony, 121 North Scott street.
Donald Rapson, 916 Beckford St.
George Copps, 935 Winslow avenue.
Donna Lutz, 941 Marshall avenue.
Donald Bogdon, 1948 Beckford street.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Definite Action Soon On Mercantile Bill

During council session held in the city building Thursday it was indicated that council would soon take definite action toward the proposed mercantile bill, one of the provisions of which taxes each bus operating here $100 annually. The measure also places a tax on certain devices which heretofore have not been taxed.

East Brook Student Nurses Receive Caps

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Fink and Mrs. Badger of East Brook, attended the capping exercises of the Montefiore Hospital school of Nursing at Pittsburgh, Pa., Tuesday evening, January 26, at 8 o'cock, at which time their daughters, Virginia Fink and Luella Badger, preclinic students, received their caps.

They are also graduates of the East Brook high school.

"Never had baking come out so nice and tender!" . . . say New Castle Homemakers

Tender blend of wheats in Pillsbury's Best helps get delicious tenderness along with satisfying texture in all home baking

Mighty appetizing way to supplement meat with flour enriched as your government recommends

PILLSBURY'S CHICKEN TURNOVERS

. . . uses mostly left-overs to make a real "party" dish . . . serves 6 economically

TIME: about 25 minutes

TEMPERATURE: 425° F.

- 5 tablespoons fat or drippings, melted
- 7 tablespoons PILLSBURY'S BEST Enriched Flour
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon celery salt
- ⅛ teaspoon curry powder
- 1½ cups milk or vegetable water
- 1¼ cups chicken broth
- ¾ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 cups diced cooked potatoes
- 2½ cups (No. 2 can) string beans, well drained
- 1 cup diced cooked carrots

1. Combine fat, flour, and seasonings in saucepan to make smooth paste. Add combined liquids gradually to flour mixture, stirring constantly, cook until thick and smooth. 2. Add Worcestershire sauce and vegetables. Turn into 12 x 8 x 2-inch casserole. Place in hot oven to heat through thoroughly at same time turnovers are baking.

It's every woman's ambition to have all her baking come out full-bodied and satisfying, yet so tender it fairly melts in her mouth. And that's the reason for the "tender blend" of wheats in Pillsbury's Best. Some wheats are sturdy and full-bodied; others are tender and delicate. Pillsbury's "tender blend" is a scientific mixture of these different fine wheats. See for yourself how this fine all-purpose flour gives delicate tenderness to all your baking—from wholesome bread to the loveliest biscuits, cakes, and pastry.

Chicken Turnovers

- 5 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon fat or drippings
- ½ cup flaked cooked chicken
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1½ cups sifted PILLSBURY'S BEST Enriched Flour
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup shortening
- 4 to 5 tablespoons cold water

1. Pan-fry onions in fat until tender; remove from heat. Add chicken and seasonings. 2. Sift flour once; measure; add salt; sift again. 3. Cut in shortening to about the size of small peas. 4. Add water, a little at a time, until dough is moist enough to hold together; chill. 5. Roll out on a lightly floured board to about ⅛-inch thickness. Cut with floured chicken-shaped cutter into 12 pieces. Place about 2 tablespoons of above chicken mixture on half the pastry pieces. Moisten edges slightly; fit remaining pastry pieces over the mixture. Seal edges with fork. Prick tops to allow escape of steam. 6. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven. When done, arrange turnovers over top of casserole. Garnish with parsley and pimiento. Serve.

Note: If desired, turnovers may be made by cutting pastry into six 4-inch squares. Place chicken mixture on half of pastry; moisten edges slightly; fold over opposite edges; seal with fork.

For better bread—try it on this "tender blend" flour! Thanks to its "tender blend" of wheats, Pillsbury's Best helps you make bread that is full-bodied, hearty and substantial, yet amazingly light and tender.

Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour

Food rationing hints—Make your rationed foods go further by serving plentifully, baked foods and bread to keep meals satisfying and nourishing.

For example: Bake meat pies with fluffy biscuit topping. Stretch the meat ration with flour-thickened gravy. Serve meat stews with tender dumplings. Stretch canned vegetables in soufflés or with flour-thickened sauces. Stretch canned fruits in puddings, cobblers, shortcakes.

Remember that when you use enriched white flour—which fortunately is plentiful—you further your government's nutrition program.

Enriched Flour contributes added calories of food-energy, two B-vitamins, and iron. Combined with milk, it provides body-building protein.

Supervisors End Sessions

S. V. Badger Is Re-Elected As President For Coming Year

Officers of the Lawrence County Supervisors and Auditors association were re-elected Thursday afternoon in the Lawrence County court house when the 28th annual convention of the association closed. The officers who will serve another year include President Samuel V. Badger, of Shenango township; vice presidents M. L. Newton of Wayne township and Carl Rodgers of Union township; secretary-treasurer, John W. Cox of Wilmington township; delegates to the state convention to be held in February, John Gibson of Slippery Rock township and W. O. Taylor of North Beaver township; alternate delegates, Joseph McBride of Hickory township and Charles D. Harper of Big Beaver township.

Afternoon Program

Several addresses were heard in the afternoon session. E. O. Reed, superintendent of highways for Lawrence county told of the work done in the past year by the department and Ernest Trimble, township engineer for the State Highway department answered many questions as to procedure in highway work.

County Commissioner Joseph P. Travers told the township officials that there was a considerable sum of money in the county treasury which had been accumulated from tax sales. This money should be divided among the various political sub-divisions he said and suggested that mandamus proceedings be introduced to get the money distributed.

State Senator J. K. McQuiddy and Assemblyman W. Sharp Fullerton addressed the convention upon coming legislation. H. A. Thompson, state secretary of the Supervisors association spoke also. The convention passed a number of resolutions among them one asking that the one cent of gasoline tax which now goes to the general fund be given to the townships of the state for road repairs. Another one would increase the amount of money that can be spent by supervisors without state supervision from $200 to $500.

News Briefs From City Hall

Mayor Charles B. Mayne is famous for his unique sentences, another having been presented, this time to a small colored boy who admitted he recently had stole a jacket from a local business house.

His Honor decreed city painters should print in white letters "I stole this coat" on it and that the juvenile should wear it.

Every morning he goes to the city police bureau and dons the coat, wears it all day then in the evening returns it to the police department.

However, every story has a sequel and it is this:

The information "I stole this coat" has caught the fancy of several other boys. In fact, they like the coat.

One liked the coat and notoriety so much he inquired of Acting Police Chief R. A. Criswell if he would be permitted to do the same thing.

Herbert Cook, O'Brien Way, father of Wesley Cook, who reportedly was missing from home, reported today the boy had returned. Two Moses' boys, George and John, members of different families, one in West Long avenue and the other in Scioto street, are yet missing, according to police records.

Several members of city council, Mercantile Appraiser James Mayberry and Solicitor R. M. White today studied the provisions of the revamped mercantile tax bill before presenting it for final adoption.

Plenty Of Gas For Allegheny Farmers

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Allegheny county farmers were assured today of sufficent gasoline to haul produce to the market or peddle it from door to door by Charles P. Shenot, chairman of the Allegheny county war board, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Farmers need not worry about gasoline," he told a training meeting of community committeemen called to discuss food production goals for 1943. "They will get all they need for trucks and farm machinery but not for autos for personal use."

Sues Pennsy For $50,000 Damages

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Arthur W. Koller of Clearfield county sought $50,000 damages in common pleas court today from the Pennsylvania Railroad for injuries received on June 25, 1941, when a P.R.R. freight and a New York Central freight collided near Renovo.

Koller, conductor on the New York Central train, said in his statement of claim that he was in the caboose of his train when the other train struck it. As a result, he stated, his left arm was amputated and he will have to wear a brace for life on his injured back.

Nearly 100 newspapers in Norway have been obliged to suspend since 1940 because of the shortage of newsprint.

GOEBBELS GOES TO TOWN

(International News Service)

LONDON—Goebbels excelled himself when, according to Moscow radio, he told this one: A man was playing a piano during the Bremen 1,000-bomber raid. A bomb blew him and the piano into the street. The man was unhurt, the piano undamaged. He reseated himself (it must be assumed that the piano stool was blown into position) and played "Horst Wessel".

Health Department Being Enlarged

During council meeting in city hall Thursday, Safety Director D. O. Davies presented a bill appropriating $3,000 not heretofore appropriated to pay wages of health department attaches. Three hundred additional dollars also would be appropriated for laboratory supplies.

Some time ago Dr. W. A. Womer was named health superintendent and Paul Lewis was also employed as a serologist.

John K. Heess, local chemist, is to be named city chemist in the bureau within the near future, it was reported.

The city health department has been enlarged in regard to personnel and also quarters because of the bureau's increased activities.

U. S. Fighters Thwart Jap Raid In New Guinea

Thrilling Battle In Port Moresby Area Intercepts Japanese Bombers

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 29.—American and Australian soldiers at a New Guinea air base were roused before dawn Wednesday by a Japanese bombing raid and saw a thrilling battle between enemy medium bombers and American fighter planes. The raid on the Allied base in the Port Moresby area was ineffective because of the successful interception by our fighters.

Capt. Robert Faurot, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., poured a stream of cannon shells and machine gun bullets into one of the Japanese raiders and chased it out to sea where it rapidly lost altitude. He was not officially credited with destruction of the bomber, but it is doubtful that enemy ship got back to its port.

A tremendous explosion, 20,000 feet in the air, was believed to have marked the destruction of another of the raiders.

Ringside seats at aerial battles is only one of the exciting adventures in New Guinea. Much has been written of the hardships and dangers on this rugged jungle island, but scarcely anything has been told of its virtues.

Papua at least offers variety. On a Monday it is so hot you can travel only at a snail's pace. But on Tuesday you shiver in a sweater and topcoat. On one day you encounter clouds of dust, and the next day you march through trails covered with water from cloudbursts.

Americans Shoot Down 987 Enemy Planes In 1942

Extra 362 Probably Downed; Loss To U. S. Forces Only 309 Planes

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Secretary of War Stimson disclosed on Thursday that in 1942 American planes definitely shot down 987 enemy planes in combat and probably downed an additional 362 with the loss of only 309 U. S. aircraft.

Reporting on the success of U. S. planes in combat in all theaters of operations last year, Stimson revealed that the "bag" of 1,349 enemy aircraft included 706 bombers, 369 fighters and 274 miscellaneous types of planes.

American pilots definitely shot down 480 enemy bombers, 294 fighters and 213 miscellaneous airships. In addition, Stimson reported, 226 enemy bombers, 75 fighters and 61 miscellaneous types were probably shot down.

Of the 309 U. S. planes lost, 110 were bombers, 164 were fighters and 35 were various types of aircraft.

Conserve Beauty Aids For "Bonds"

M'Lady Must "Think" When Using Cosmetics And Save Pennies For War Stamps And Bonds

Even "beauty aids" come under the conservation issue for the duration. M'Lady is advised of some economy hints to save pennies for war stamps and bonds.

First: recap your bottle of nail polish when you are through using it, to save evaporation; second, don't use an overloaded brush, dripping with too much polish—it spills and wastes on the neck of the bottle; third, longer wearing and precious nails won't stand up under the wear and tear of telephone dialing—keep a pencil nearby for this duty.

Another destroyer to lovely nails bobby pins—there is a way of opening them by using the pads of your fingers, girls, and it's well worth the practice, to perfect.

Another item is lipstick—go gently on the length when you swivel up the stick to prevent possible breaking—and be sure it is completely screwed down before putting on the lid. And, girls, never leave your purse near a radiator with your lipstick in it—or you may have a liquid.

N. A. L. C. AUXILIARY OFFICERS ELECTED

Election of new officers took place when the N.A.L.C. Auxilary met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. John Gaston, Park avenue. Mrs. George Parker, retiring president, had charge of the meeting.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. Fred Thompson; vice president, Mrs. Thomas Davis; secretary, Mrs. Robert Maxwell; treasurer, Mrs. Mont Forney; trustee, Mrs. William Reed. Names of postal sisters for the ensuing year were also drawn.

Knitting for the Red Cross was continued at this meeting and at the next meeting the afghan the group has completed patches for will be assembled under the direction of Mrs. Lee Whiting. The door prize last evening went to Mrs. Forney.

Reports for the year showed that the class in surgical dressings at Red Cross headquarters is being continued. Sixteen sweaters have been completed and another afghan is to be started. A contribution was given to the Rescue Mission at Christmas.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess.

The new officers will be installed at the next meeting on February 25 in the home of Mrs. Mont Forney, 713 Carlisle street.

L. A. B. Club

Mrs. William Tinsley of the Hileman apartments, opened her home to the L. A. B. club members Thursday evening, when the group honored Mrs. John Shaffer. She received a personal gift in observance of the birthday anniversary.

Plans were formulated for a St. Valentine Day party, on February 11. It will be held in the home of Mrs. Anna McClimans, East Washington street.

In cards that followed, Mrs. William Ellgass, and Mrs. Lucy Covert were the prize winners. A special guest was Mrs. William Ellgass, Jr.

Lunch was the concluding feature, the hostess being aided by Mrs. Ellgass.

P. F. F. CLUB GUESTS AT DOONE RESIDENCE

Mrs. Joseph Doone of Long avenue, received the P. F. F. members in her home Thursday evening, the time being devoted to three tables of 500. Those winning prizes included Mrs. George Gibson, Mrs. Frank Haas and Mrs. E. D. Fee. The door trophy was carried off by Mrs. Joseph Krueger.

Lunch was served at a late hour, and Mrs. A. Rohrer and Mrs. A. Marino, special guests aided. They also received a hostess remembrance.

A special highlight was the celebrating of three birthday anniversaries. Sharing honors were Mrs. Frank Haas, Mrs. Sam Carr and Mrs. George Gibson. Each was presented with a personal gift.

Thursday, February 11, Mrs. Joseph Krueger of Bluff street, will entertain in her home.

Ben Franklin Class Honors Supt. Burton

Members of the 9A class of January 1943 of Ben Franklin junior high school, in graduation exercises at the school Thursday morning, presented to the school a portrait of Frank L. Burton, now superintendent of schools, for twenty years principal of Ben Franklin junior high school.

Of additional interest is the fact that the portrait is the work of a former student of Mr. Burton, Mrs. Charles Nicholas, of Butler, who before her marriage was Miss Evelyn Offutt, of New Castle, a graduate of the local high school in the class of 1924.

Class Member Presents

Presentation of the gift to Gerald E. Nord, principal of Ben Franklin, for the school as a timely addition to the gallery of portraits in the school halls, was made for the 9A class by Don Harris.

Young Harris in his presentation speech said in part, "This is the portrait of a man who for 20 years was the respected and beloved leader of Ben Franklin; a man who gave unselfishly and patiently his time and energy to the molding of the characters of the thousands of Ben Franklin graduates."

Principal Nord Accepts

Accepting the gift on behalf of the school, Mr. Nord said, "Speaking for the faculty and students of Ben Franklin Junior high school, I am honored to accept this visible evidence of your devotion to a man who has given more than 20 years of a busy life to the cause of education in this institution.

"Three men have been indentified more closely with this school than any others. Dr. Benjamin Franklin is the one for whom this building is named; Dr. Ben G. Graham was the man whose vision made possible the erection of this building and the establishment of the school. And now Frank L. Burton, who gave more than a generation of students some of his best years of service as the school's only principal, is being honored today.

"His portrait will remind us of the need for more and better educational service in the years to come."

Class Program

Teachers who were in charge of the graduation program were Miss Ingeborg Hallgren, supervisor of the class, Mrs. Lyons, Miss Schumaker, who wrote clever parodies of popular songs, and Miss Gibbons and Miss Young, who directed a short skit, "Crazy With 'Em" and the songs.

The program was as follows:

"Crazy With 'Em", short skit—lead by James Cananne and Don Harris.

Class history—Donald Book.

Class groucher—Delbert Porter.

Class prophecy—Marilyn Woodard.

Class will—Ruth Hartman.

Presentation of gift by Don Harris.

Acceptance by Principal G. E. Nord.

Hold Brood Sow Sale At Stoneboro

Registered Stock Brings Good Prices At Auction Sale This Week

Impetus to the war effort to produce more meat for the armed forces and the civilian population back home was given at the first Hampshire bred gilt and sow sale ever conducted in Western Pennsylvania, which took place at Stoneboro, Wednesday.

On the committee in charge of the auction were W. W. Bell, vocational instructor at Mt. Jackson high school, and E. C. Wiggins, district vocational agricultural supervisor.

John R. Clark, of R. F. D. No. 7 Mahoningtown, one of the Future Farmer youths who had four head sold, sold one gilt for $150, and another for $42.50, the second and third highest prices paid at the sale, and totalled over $500 for the four animals.

Purchasers from the county included Homer Glean and Earl McConahy, of Harlansburg; Lyle Fox of Enon Valley; and Mrs. Mabel Oesterling, of East Brook.

Bob Hope Is Sued By Sister-In-Law

Comedian Object Of Suit For $2,300 Back Salary; Files Cross Complaint

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29.—Comedian Bob Hope today found himself the object of a $2,300 law suit—an amount his sister-in-law claimed was due her for helping make him the funny man he is.

Describing in details the activity behind radio wit and wisecracks, Mrs. Marie Towns Hope, the sister-in-law, told the court that Hope owed her $2,300 for secretarial work.

She told how she helped collect, classify, catalogue and card-index thousands of gags and jokes for Hope and his "six or seven gag writers." For his labor, Mrs. Hope complained in her suit, she was paid only $12.50 weekly over a 104-week period.

The comedian, who did not appear in court, filed a cross complaint, seeking $1,425 which he said he lent to the sister-in-law and his brother, F. James Hope, Los Angeles business man.

American Colleges Have Double Job

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—American colleges have a two-way job today, first to win the war and second to keep one eye cocked toward a post-war program, in the opinion of Dr. Everett Needham Case, 41, president of Colgate university.

At a meeting of the school's Pittsburgh alumni, he said:

"Colleges cannot choose and say what is their job. They have to tackle a double job. When the armistice is signed that is the end of round one. American schools have a big stake in the outcome of the war and they have a job to do after the war."

NEGLECT OF LITTLE ILLS LEADS TO BIGGER BILLS!

✶ Trying to "save" on Doctor bills is never sound economy. And now, when the nation needs our vital energy, it's pretty poor patriotism to postpone needed medical attention. One call on your Physician, when you aren't feeling quite up to par, may save both your time and his—not to mention the saving in expense and suffering! And your prescriptions will be compounded here at prices as low, or lower, than elsewhere.

Local Brothers At Same U. S. Navy Base

Horchler Boys Of Clayton Street, Find Themselves Together, Serving Uncle Sam

Mrs. Raymond Horchler of Clayton street, is a happy war mother, inasmuch as her two sons chanced meeting at the Great Lakes Naval Training base, and they are together in the same camp.

Raymond Horchler, Jr., petty officer 3c, who enlisted on January 1, was working in the registration office at Camp Berry of the Great Lakes, when, taking the boys in turn for the desired information, he stated "Next"—Name please? Russell Horchler, 515 Clayton street, New Castle, Pa." That was the beginning. The boys are not only happy in being together, but they are both keen about the U. S. Navy training, as their letters to "Dear Mom" reveal.

Russell recently entered as an apprentice seaman.

Local Civil Engineer Honored At Banquet

On Thursday evening, at a banquet give by the Pittsburgh section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, E. C. Hulbert, of 502 West Cherry street, was honor guest. The meeting was at the William Penn hotel.

During the banquet E. K. Hiles, an official of the society, presented Mr. Hulbert with a certificate of life membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Mr. Hulbert commenced his work in 1887, and surveyed for plants, blast furnaces, coke plants, coal mines, in Pittsburgh, Ambridge, Neville Island and Uniontown. He was engineer from 1910 to 1931 for the Crescent Portland Cement company, of Wampum, after which he returned to general practice in the city. He laid out and built the New Castle Airport. He retired from active practice in 1941, at the age of 79.

Mr. Hulbert, with his wife, has lived 12 years in the seventh ward. He is in splendid health and an active member of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church.

Mahoning Pupils Go To High School

DAVIS BIBLE CLASS HAS TUREEN DINNER

At the Mahoning Methodist church the John Davis Bible class gave a tureen dinner on Thursday evening with 20 members present.

The committee of arrangements was Misses Ina Cooper, Eleanor Blasdell, Virginia Stone, Ruth Stimple.

Games were the main diversion of the evening.

The next meeting will be February 25.

G. I. A. TO B. L. E. MEET THURSDAY

Members of the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers met on Thursday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. C. A. Probst presided over the regular business session, which took up the afternoon, when further plans were made for the anniversary party, which will take place some time next month.

Next meeting will be on Thursday, Feb. 11, at 1:30, in the Y. W. C. A.

EXPLORERS PATROL

At the home of Frank Calvert, of West Cherry street, the Explorers patrol, Boy Scouts troop V-4, will meet on Sunday afternoon at two.

There will be instruction classes in first aid, Morse code and nature study.

TAKING SNOW OFF SIDEWALKS

John G. Dilley, of North Liberty street, was a busy man Thursday afternoon cleaning the snow off sidewalks. Mr. Dilley takes care of the heating furnaces of several buildings on the street.

CONCLUDES FURLOUGH

Sergeant S. L. Turk of Fort Belvoir, Va., has returned after concluding a 15 days furlough visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Turk of North Liberty street.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. Edith Fuscher and infant of 1012 North Liberty street have returned from the New Castle hospital to their home.

Philip Stevenson of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home from the New Castle hospital.

Mrs. Chris Antoline of Monaca is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Dan Rainey on Darlington avenue. Mrs. Antoline also attended the Castrucci-Rainey wedding here.

Miss Beatrice Gleghorn, of Richmond, Va., has concluded her visit with Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bollinger, of 104 West Madison avenue, and is now visiting at the home of her brother, W. F. Gleghorn, and family, of Mt. Jackson.

MAN STRICKEN IN DOWNTOWN BUILDING

William Baskeyfield, 215 Weaver street, was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital in an ambulance shortly before noon today after he became ill while en route to a physician's office for an examination in the Temple building.

Mr. Baskeyfield was said to have been stricken as he was alighting from the elevator.

Local Firm's Display Wins National Award

The idea was to tie up the merchandise manufactured by the company with the war effort, and Mr. Prosser seemed to not only have grasped the complete idea of the contest but also to have demonstrated his splendid ability in preparing a fine display window. His efforts were successful in competition against those of some of the largest firms in the country, with wonderful stores in the metropolitan centers.

Mr. Prosser was advised the other day by the Revere company that he would soon receive a $50 war bond as the first prize award. In addition, pictures of the window and the story about it will be published in a number of national trade magazines, bringing acclaim to New Castle and the firm of Reynolds & Summers.

Safety tips for war workers are now being published by the U. S. government.

To Build Thousand New Freight Cars

Wood To Be Used To Make 70-Ton Gondola Cars For War Transportation

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—One thousand heavy-duty gondola cars, with wood planking used temporarily in the side sections to conserve steel for the war effort, are to be built by the Pennsylvania railroad to augment the fleet of open-top cars required for the transportation of vital war materials, it was announced today. Each car will have a capacity of 70 tons.

The construction program provides for all of the new cars to be in service during the first half of 1943. War production board approval has been obtained for construction of the cars, which have been designed so that after the war the plank side sections can be replaced readily with steel plates, which will assure the long-term durability of all-steel construction.

But if an Eastern lad uses his car to go courting, and really means business, is that pleasure driving?

CLOTHES PRESS IS FOUND ABLAZE

Firemen were called to the home of James Fowler, of 1063 Adams street, at 8:15 o'clock Thursday night, when some clothing caught fire in a clothes press. The damage was confined entirely to the closet, damage of around $100 being inflicted.

At 9:30 o'clock an alarm from box 31 summoned firemen to the rear of East Washington street, where some Christmas trees had been set afire.

As we understand the president, any amending of his laws will prove that Republicans want to starve us.

County School Directors Have Annual Meeting

Wartime Problems Affecting Schools Are Discussed At Meeting Thursday

GOOD SPEAKERS FEATURE SESSION

Lawrence county school directors met at the Court House here Thursday for their 40th annual convention, which was probably one of the most momentous ever held, due to the many grave problems confronting the schools because of the war.

The principal theme of discussion were these war problems. Dr. Lee L. Driver, of Harrisburg, former head of the bureau of transportation and consolidation in the state school system being the featured speaker. He discussed the matter of transportation and teachers, both of which have become grave problems.

Transportation Problem

John C. Syling, County Superintendent, also spoke on these matters, and stated that the schools would probably have to cut further in the mater of transportation if the situation becomes much more difficult in the future. He stated that all the schools are now manned by teachers, but that the loss of any more teachers this year would probably result in the closing of some schools.

The invocation at the morning session was given by Rev. Rudolph Johnson, of Bessemer; and reports were submitted by the officers President, P. M. Cox, of Volant; secretary, Roy DeArment, of Bessemer; and treasurer, J. A. McClymonds, of Slippery Rock township

Dr. Harold Black, of New Wilmington, was re-elected auditor during the morning session.

Afternoon Meeting

At the afternoon meeting, R. B. F. Regal, of Butler county, representing the State School Directors Association, spoke, and urged the directors not to be carried away and distracted by things that turn up, but to weigh matters soberly.

Dr. L. H. Beeler, head of the history department of Grove City College, who was to have been one of the speaokers, was unable to be present.

Miss Hannah Atwood Parks, supervisor of special education; Mrs. Melissa Hurlbut, home economics supervisor; and E. C. Wiggins, agricultural supervisor, gave interesting reports of the work they are supervising in the county schools; and Assistant County Superintendent Roy F. Conway called attention to the problems which have arisen out of the fluctuating attendance of the past few years, which up until a year or so ago, showed a decline but now has shown a slight increase in the first grade, and which may be excepted to show a greater increase in the next few years urging the directors to look forward to this and make plans for it.

The convention was largely attended in spite of the weather and wartime conditions.

Never Doubted American Stand On Guadalcanal

General Vandegrift, Returned From South Pacific, Asserts Marine Morale High

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Maj Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, who directed the American invasion of the southern Solomons, asserted today that U. S. forces not only can hold Guadalcanal, but that there never was any doubt about this accomplishment and that the morale of his Marines remained high throughout the long and strenuous campaign.

At his first press conference following his return from the south Pacific the "hero of Guadalcanal," a sun bronzed Marine officer, said:

"I feel we can hold Guadalcanal—unquestionably. I never thought at any time we couldn't hold it.

"Henderson Field (American airdrome on Guadalcanal) is well secured from artillery and ground attacks."

Will Observe Endeavor Week

State Christian Endeavor President To Speak Here On February 4

The 62nd birthday of Christian Endeavor is to be observed from January 31 to February 7—Christian Endeavor Week—by various Christian Endeavor societies.

A special program is being planned for Thursday evening, February 4, in Central Presbyterian church by members of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union. Dr. J. Wilson Byers of Allquippa, the state president, will be the principal speaker. This program is to start at 8 o'clock, following a business session at 7:30 o'clock.

The committee in charge of the special service includes Thelma Bumbaugh, uth Garrity, Kenneth Gaston, Emma Patton, Rev. Clyde Roland and Rev. Sidney K. Bliss.

HEARS FROM BROTHER

Mrs. Evelyn McKibben, telephonist of the court house has received word from her brother, D. O. Davies who is with the Marines in the South Pacific. Davies was in the tough battling on Guadalcanal when the Marines tossed the Japs out of the Henderson airfield area. He served with Barney Ross, former world's champion welter weight champion. Davies, along with his Marine pals, is now on some island in the South Seas where the leathernecks have been sent for a much needed rest. About the time the letter was received from her brother, Mrs. McKibben got a letter from a brother-in-law who is in Egypt. He sent a picture of himself and a group of friends on camels with the Pyramids as a background.

The Kindergarten Child

(Contributed)

A child of five, or thereabouts, is a person. He has tastes and preferences. He has ideas and ambitions. He has thoughts of his own, desires, plans. It is time to begin to give him an opportunity to expand his growing self; time to let him go out from the home a little and touch life.

But he is very helpless in many ways. He cannot judge people and happenings; he cannot defend himself against dangers; he is not discriminating; he is timid; his reasoning is scarcely budded. How can we give him a chance to experiment with life a little, stay within his powers, reach a little beyond his home environment, associate with other children of different quality and heredity, and yet safeguard him?

Send him to a good kindergarten. If he is selfish the other children will teach him to share. If he is self-centered they will give him new interests outside himself. If he is domineering, the other children will prod him out of that attitude. If he is timid they will encourage. If he is backward they will teach him.

A kindergarten is more than ever a necessity at this time. Not only are many mothers working outside their homes (either in volunteer war work or in actual defense industries) but the war has brought an atmosphere of tension—of sadness and worry—to many homes and children are effected by this, even when they may not fully understand.

With a well-directed program of activities and a teacher trained to understand the age-group in question, kindergarten provides the busy, regular life and the sense of security so much needed in these troubled times. The kindergarten fills a great need in the lives of little children.

The child becomes accustomed to a well routined day. He gets that instinctively desired rythmic quality in his day that a carefully planned program gives. He grows and flourishes under a scheme that provides a varied monotony of days. Doing the same thing at the same time daily sets a rhythm of growth that delights the body and the mind of a child. He loves the certainty of the plan. His body responds gladly to the familiar every day happening and so he grows and grows.

Play is the food of the child's body and mind at this stage of growth. That play must be directed, sustained and guided so that no poor habits are formed, no anti-social attitudes fixed. The play is to give his body a chance to expand and his mind the opportunity to stretch over the life that lies outside his home, the life that is concerned with people and the things people do and say. The home alone cannot provide this. The kindergarten is invaluable.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

When an accident victim stops breathing whether from drowning or electric shock, help is needed right away.

Everybody ought to know what to do and how to do it. Everybody ought to learn how to do artificial respiration. She should learn how to do it unaided and with no other apparatus than her hands.

A child may get an electric shock in the home. The mother is the only one who can help. The help must be given right away or it will be forever too late.

What shall she do?

Remember that the lungs are two bags full of air in the chest. Artificial respiration means squeezing the air out of these bags and allowing it to flow in again of its own accord. It will always flow back in.

The chest is a box of bone and cannot be squeezed. The squeeze must be on the short ribs below the chest.

Lay the victim face down right where he is. Put his hand under his face so that mouth and nose are out of the dirt.

Straddle the patient across the thighs with your head toward his head. Place your hands flat on his body one on each side over the short ribs and press down with the weight of your shoulders while you slowly count three. Release the pressure while counting one two.

That is all there is to it.

If you understand what you are trying to do, you can do it as well as the best doctor in the world.

Do not get excited and work too fast or too hard. Do not wait for help. Do not wait for the doctor to come.

Do not wait for any breathing machine.

Get busy yourself right away and stay at it till help comes.

Do not stop when help comes either. Be sure that your helper knows what to do and that he does it right away.

If you squeeze the lungs regularly you will do all that can be done.

Hell is a place where you have to fill out income tax reports while a neighbor's five little dogs yap forever.

Why not put up canned soup in tiny little pasteboard boxes? We could add the pint of water at home.

Plan Of Training Men For Executives Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright, 1943, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Fla., Jan. 29.—Having raised and given several millions of dollars to educational institutions—including the Babson Institute and Webber college—I must say a word relative to the army's latest college ideas.

BABSON

Doubtless the long-established plan of letting money be such a factor in deciding who goes to college is wrong. Because a boy's parents can afford to send him to college is no reason why he should go; or because the parents have not the money is no reason why he should not go. The army is right in ruling out the evidence of whether or not parents have the necessary money.

Beware of I. Q. Tests

On the other hand, as the late President Lowell of Harvard college believed, the selection of boys according to their I. Q.'s is simply crazy. In fact, even the marks which boys get in high school are largely due to their good memories rather than to their good judgments. Yet, we all know that it's judgment and courage which count in the end—the ability to say "Yes" or "No" at the right time when so-called opportunities develop.

Perhaps I am prejudiced on this subject of high schools, having been unable myself to make the grade and get a high school diploma on my "graduation day" at Gloucester, Massachusetts. Thereafter, however, I was accepted by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and graduated therefrom. Based upon experience with hundreds whom I have since employed, I am sure that their academic marks at high school were no criterion of what these people could later do.

Good Memories Are Misleading

Of all the preposterous educational frauds put over the American public, the "I. Q." fad, "Information Please" and the "Quiz Kids" are the worst from my point of view. They are entertaining and instructive to the listeners, but they are a travesty on education.

The truth is that young people who have good memories and get high marks miss the training which comes from struggle. As a result they enter real life without any knowledge or experience in real work, real competition and real disappointment.

Good Judgment Most Important

Having high marks in high school may even be a handicap to a boy throughout his life. Certainly, such boys are not fitted to carry on the medical, the engineering or the scientific work of our nation. Study comes too easy to them. They are as irresponsible, intellectually, as rich mens' sons are irresponsible, financially. "Come easy, go easy" is a truth whether it is money, intelligence or reputation.

All the above means that the military had better stick to their own field and not mix in education by deciding how boys shall be selected for college, without first getting the facts needed for making such selections. It cannot effectively or justly be done merely by I. Q.s. This is all the more true if—after the war—the military is to continue operating in industry to assure employment for the returning soldiers.

How To Select Men For College

"How should boys be selected for college material?" you naturally ask. The answer is that no one knows. Many studies have been made of college men to see the relationship between high marks and success after graduation; but nothing conclusive has been learned along these lines as to high school students.

Such a study would not take long. If started immediately a report could be reduced before September. Such an undertaking, to ascertain just which high school boys make the best executives, engineers and scientists, should be made. All the statistics are available; they need only proper analysis and study remembering—to quote Justice Holmes—"life is painting a picture—not doing a sum".

Let me not close without a word to parents. It is a pleasure to have children bring home good marks from school; but do not be discouraged if they fail to do so. Most of the successful men who are truly doing things today never saw the inside of a college—and perhaps not a high school.

The important thing that determines a boy's future is his spiritual habits. Is he industrious, honest and clean? What is his attitude at high school as to drink, late hours, yes, and even smoking? Yet, your boy's habits are up to you parents—not to the school. You, by example and precept, are responsible for your boy's habits—the things which count most.

Religion Should Be Considered

No one knows what a study of high school boys will show, but my guess is it will show that habits are the most important factor toward later success. I might also add that a boy's religious training and ideals may go further in determining his fitness for college than his high school marks in mathematics, chemistry or mechanical drawing.

Young People's Director Is Speaker At Conference

Splendid attendance and interest greeted the joint Mid-Year Efficiency Conference and Young People's Rally held at Epworth Methodist church, this city, on Thursday.

Rev. A. W. Scheckells, director of Young People of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, gave two inspiring messages as well as conducting an information open forum at the afternoon session and showing colored views of Camp Kanesatake.

Recognition was given to Wilmington district for having the best attendance of any district outside of New Castle. Recognition was also given to the four one hundred per cent districts in attendance of officers and departmental superintendents. These were New Castle district, Wilmington district, Ellwood district and Pulaski district. In New Castle district, the First Baptist Sunday school had the best attendance and the Third U. P. school was second.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session started with devotions in charge of Rev. Oliver W. Hurst. The county president, Robert M. Strickler, spoke of the coming Victory Pre-Easter Increase Campaign, as well as a planned Leadership Training school. Mrs. H. F. Magill, county secretary, spoke of the importance of the Home Department, especially at this time when many are working seven days a week in defense industries.

J. H. Lusk, temperance superintendent of Wilmington district, spoke concerning the proposed dropping of quarterly temperance lessons from international lessons in 1945. J. A. Boak, president of Slippery Rock district, was appointed chairman of a committee to present resolutions of protest to be sent to the International Council of Religious Education. These resolutions were unanimously adopted at the evening session.

Evening Program

The opening devotional service in the evening was in charge of Young People under the leadership of Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, with many taking part.

Mrs. Anna Pyle, organist of Epworth church, played the organ and the Young People's choir of Epworth church furnished special music. The pastor of the conference church, Rev. W. A. Thornton, extended a welcome in behalf of the entertaining church.

Rev. A. W. Scheckells prefaced his inspiring message of the evening by saying that this was one of the best attended, if not the best, conference of this nature held in the state this year.

Appreciation was extended to the ladies of the church for the turkey dinner. The number attending the dinner was larger than anticipated, but the church ladies were able to take care of nearly all, only a limited number having to go elsewhere for meals.

A friendship circle, in which all took part, preceded the closing prayer and benediction.

Now, as at the beginning, victory depends upon ships and sub-chasers. We can't win the war till we find a way to lick the subs.

Patriotism, new style: Not getting ahead of the Joneses.

Convict Father Of Manslaughter In Daughter's Death

Pittsburgh Man Found Guilty Despite Wife's Testimony In Defense

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29—Sentence was to be passed today on Earl T. Styen, 20-year-old illiterate laborer who was convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the death of his nine-weeks-old daughter in criminal court here.

A jury of nine women and three men returned the guilty verdict against Styen, despite his 17-year-old wife's testimony that "she dropped the baby several minutes after Earl slapped me," and that "he didn't make me drop her."

The baby died from a fractured skull last June 19.

Mrs. Styen, relating the details of their first quarrel in three years of married life, said:

"I said some things to him that weren't nice and he slapped me. It was several minutes later that I dropped the baby. I was so nervous and high-strung over our argument. He didn't make me drop her. He loved the baby as much as I did."

Styen, in his own defense, testified:

"I was across the room when Rosanna dropped the baby. I heard her scream and turned around and saw her pick the baby from the floor. I would never have hurt my little girl."

Lucky Lieut.

Lieutenant J. M. A——— was in a strange city and he wanted to attend church. Being unfamiliar with the churches in that city, he turned to the list in the Classified Section of the telephone directory, closed his eyes, pointed his finger—and went to the one his finger hit.

There he met a lovely young woman, who is now his wife.

We don't say that a telephone directory can do the same for you. But it can help you avoid mistakes. When you're not quite sure of the number, please look it up. Don't call "Information" unless you're sure the number is not yet listed. Wrong numbers and unnecessary calls to "Information" waste time and tie up telephone facilities which are busy with important war calls. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Some Doubt Now Cast On Hitler's Speech Plan

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Latest reports from Germany suggest that it is doubtful whether Hitler will make a scheduled address tomorrow on the 10th anniversary of his appointment as chancellor of the Reich, a special dispatch to Reuter's News Agency from inside Europe said today.

If he does speak, it was pointed out, the Nazi leader probably will do little more than reiterate assertions that Germany was forced to go to war by its enemies. The usual tirades against plutocrats, democracies and Jewry also can be expected.

Rumors that Hitler will openly announce his relinquishment of personal command of the army are in circulation, the dispatch said, but it cannot be confirmed. It was considered doubtful that he would make such a pronouncement for reasons of prestige but it was not considered improbable that he would give up command without publicizing the fact and still remain nominal commander.

The German radio meanwhile said that Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler headed an imposing delegation of Nazis which went to meet members of the Fascist party arriving in Berlin today to attend the 10th anniversary celebrations.

(The German Transocean News Agency, in a broadcast to the United States, gave the program for the anniversary celebration and significantly omitted mention of any speech by Hitler. The British radio, according to government monitors, broadcast a report that Hitler definitely will not speak. Both the German and British broadcasts said that Goebbels would read a proclamation by Hitler.)

Builders Hear About Priorities

W. P. B. Representative Speaks At Gathering Here On Thursday

Priorities for various types of improvements in homes and buildings were explained Thursday at a noon luncheon in The Castleton hotel, when D. S. Donkin, of the War Production Board spoke to some 50 builders, contractors, architects and building supply men in the ball room of the hotel.

The meeting was under the sponsorship of the Greater New Castle Association with J. L. Matthews, president, in charge.

Mr. Donkin discussed WPB Order L-41 which defines the types of work that can be done under priority procurements and interpreted many of the passages in detail. He prefaced his remarks by saying that all construction which is not essential, directly or indirectly, to the successful prosecution of the war and which involves utilization of labor, material or construction plant urgently needed in the war effort be deferred for the duration.

Many questions were asked by the men present as to what constituted essential repairs or improvements in residences and multiple unit homes and these questions Mr. Donkin answered. He also explained that questions of farm machinery and equipment should be referred to the local War Board of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The purpose back of the meeting was to spur interest in home conversions here for the housing of war workers. Homes are needed for 400 new war workers and some have already been provided. Priorities are possible for conversion of homes to accomodate new comers in war industry and the address and answers of Mr. Donkin on Thursday cleared many of the questions that have loomed in the minds of builders and others in the building and construction field.

When Cat island, off the gulf coast near Biloxi, Miss., was discovered by French explorers, they saw a large number of raccoons running along its shores. Never having seen the strictly American raccoon, they thought they were cats and named the island "Isle aux Chats."

SUIT IS FILED AGAINST OLES

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 2.—The OPA filed suit today in Federal court charging George L. Oles, Youngstown food merchant, with violating price ceilings and announced that it was the first action of its kind filed in the United States.

The suit, which seeks to suspend Oles' license to do business, charged that the merchant, a former mayor of Youngstown, sold bread, lard, beans, prunes and canned tomatoes in excess of the ceiling prices ranging from 9 to 18 cents.

Hope For Life Of One Sullivan Boy

Parents Of Five Sailors On Sunken U. S. S. Juneau Still Hope One Survives

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The parents of the five Sullivan brothers who were reported missing after the Cruiser U.S.S. Juneau was sunk in the Solomons last November clung to the hope today that at least one of their sons still may be alive.

En route to New York to appear on a radio program next Sunday, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, of Waterloo, Ia., stopped off in Chicago to chat with draftees and sailors in the railroad station yesterday and talk about their boys.

"You know," said the mother, Alleta, who celebrated her 50th birthday yesterday, "I haven't given up all hope. Maybe one of my boys escaped death. Maybe he is floating on a raft somewhere like I read some sailors have done."

Seek New President For Juniata College

(International News Service)

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Jan. 29.—A six-member committee today sought a successor to President Charles C. Ellis of Juniata college who will retire on September 1, 1943, after 13 years in office.

The committee, appointed by the board of trustees, is composed of Dr. Gaius M. Brumbaugh, Washington, D. C., chairman; John C. Baker, Cambridge, Mass.; Samuel M. Hess, Huntingdon; Rev. Ross D. Murphy, Philadelphia; William S. Price, Royersford, and John S. Noffsinger, Washington, D. C., secretary.

Poet Leaves $2,500 To Help Win War

(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 29—A bequest of $2,509 in war bonds to the United States government to "help in the prosecution of the war" was disclosed today with the filing of the will of Cale Young Rice, 70-year-old poet who committed suicide.

Among the charitable donations from Rices' estate, which was valued at $84,311.74, was a $1,000 gift to Louisville's Cabbage Patch settlement in memory of the poet's wife, Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice, who wrote the popular book "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch".

GRANGE NEWS

"Appalachian" Adds To Evergrowing Navy

(International News Service)

KEARNY, N. J., Jan. 29.—A new addition to America's ever-growing navy was made today when the U. S. S. Appalachian was launched at the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company.

The new craft originally was ordered by the U. S. Maritime Commission as part of its long-range program begun in 1937, but was transformed into an auxiliary craft for the Navy as it was being built.

The Appalachian was sponsored by Mrs. Frank McInnis, wife of the east coast regional director of construction of the Maritime commission, who is stationed in Philadelphia.

The army doesn't make boys mean. It only gives the mean ones a little more freedom to exercise their natural gifts.

Navy Information Is Withheld From Japs, Not America

Policy Of Delaying Announcement Of Casualties Is Defended As War Strategy

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The navy department today defended its policy of delaying announcement of battle casualties on the ground that premature publication might aid the enemy.

Vice Admiral F. J. Horne submitted the navy's statement to the Senate Naval Affairs committee, which called him in a secret session to discuss the news policy as well as the general naval situation.

"The navy has been accused of wanting to withhold information from the American people," the statement said. "This charge is based on a misunderstanding, as it is not from the American people, but from the Japanese, that the navy is seeking to withhold information."

The navy listed three reasons for its news policy. They are:

1. The enemy wants to know exact location of American ships.
2. The enemy wants to know the condition of American ships.
3. The element of surprise is important in naval actions.

MOTHER OF SIX SEEKS TO AVOID PEACE AND QUIET

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—If you have a noisy war job to fill, contact Mrs. Catherine Nee who can't get along with "peace and quiet."

Mrs. Nee decided to look for work "in a war plant" today while helping her fifth son, Bill, who's 20, pack for service in Uncle Sam's armed forces. A sixth son, Tom, who at 25 is the oldest, is married, has a child and works in a war industry at nearby Eddystone.

Then there's Louis, 18, who expects to be called soon, and Mary Theresa, 16, who wants to be a WAAC.

Pat—the head man—served in the coast artillery during World War I.

"I guess I'll get a job in a war plant," said the proud mother, "because the house will be so quiet when all the boys are gone."

Americanism: Planes and tanks breaking down because of sabotage; still leaving things unguarded and trusting everybody.

Four Grove City Fliers In Action On War Fronts

Captain Harris Of Beaver In London Hospital With Wounds; Gets Purple Heart

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Jan. 29—Four members of the first student-flying course given at Grove City College are now in the thick of fighting on three fronts. They are Lieut. Miles Lynn of Emlenton, Lieut. Tom Hulings of Marienville, Capt. Wm. Harris of Beaver, and Lieut. Lee Hicks of Monaca. All were members of the 1941 graduating class, but Hulings left school to enlist in 1940.

Captain Harris is recuperating in a London hospital from wounds received while piloting a bomber on a European daylight raid. He has been awarded the Purple Heart. Lieut. Hicks was the pilot of a bomber on a recent attack on a Japanese South Pacific base at Lae. Lieut. Hulings, as a bomber pilot in England, recently brought his ship in with nearly 2,000 flak and cannon shell hits. Lieut. Lynn is piloting an American Spitfire from England in attacks on the Axis in Europe.

Of the various types of headache migraine is the worst.

Migraine causes disturbance affecting the eyes.

It affects the gastrointestinal system as welll.

Migraine pains center in one side of the head.

Attacks lasting a day or two occur periodically.

An ophthalmoplegic migraine leaves it victim helpless.

Unable to work due to expanding blind spots.

Both eyes filled with dancing lights;

This to be followed by headache and usually nausea.

Attacks are often preceded by a premonition of trouble.

There is a strong hereditary tendency in migraine.

Proper treatment of migraine requires interval management.

Donald Fox Wins Mid-Year Election; Christian Endeavor Officers Named Also

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 29—Donald Fox, Enon Valley, junior, has been elected president of the Westminster College Y.M.C.A. at the annual mid-year elections.

Other students selected for positions in the Y.M.C.A. include Paul Musser, Akron, O., sophomore, as vice presidents; Robert Santelli, Carnegie, sophomore, as secretary; Everett Smith, Hamburg, N.Y., freshman, as second vice-president; and Howard Holschuh, New Hampton, N.Y., junior, as treasurer.

Raymond Ankeny, Apollo sophomore, was recently elected president of the college Christian Endeavor society to replace Jack O'Melia, Olean, N.Y., sophomore, who will enter the armed service soon. The remaining officers of the society who will hold their positions until the end of the year are Paul Fiscus, Vandergrift, sophomore; vice-president; Ruth Galbreath, New Wilmington, junior, secretary; and Mary Louise McCalmont, Providence, R.I., sophomore, treasurer.

Section 21 Lead At Stake Tonight In New Wilmington

CRAINE-CATHCART DUEL TO FEATURE IMPORTANT CLASH

Wampum Seeks To Shatter "Greyhounds'" 11-Game Winning Skein

SEVEN O'CLOCK STARTING TIME

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 29 Next to World War II, tonight's Section 21 double feature between unbeaten New Wilmington and once defeated Wampum high is the hottest topic in this excited town of less than 1,500 persons

The telephone booth-like Community House hardwood, setting for the important contest, will be sardined with onlookers as the rival schoolboy teams commence unfurling their cage strategy at 7 o'clock.

Highlighting the fray will be the anticipated scoring duel between Coy "Springy" Craine, Wampum slicker, and Kenny "Skyscraper" Cathcart, 6 foot 6 sensation of the "Greyhounds". The pair represents two of the most gifted athletes ever to don cage raiment in local Class B ranks.

One-Handed Artist

Craine, who meshed his 1,002nd scholastic point against Darlington, Tuesday, has been tabbed as the hottest point maker in WPIAL precincts, both in Class A and B. In 15 clashes the colored center, who relies mostly on a one-handed shot, has garnered 290 markers, 103 of 'em in Section 21.

Besides his incredible ability to zip the spheroid, the 6 foot 1 star keystones the offensive and defensive attack. He ignites the scoring fuse with bullet-like passes and inserts that much needed confidence and spirit into a winning club.

While Cathcart's scoring meter reads 201 points in 11 successive wins, the lean center isn't too far behind Craine. His reputation is widespread in the district. Kenny

LINE-UP

New Wilmington		Wampum
Evans	F	F. Bennett
Green	F	Marich
Cathcart	C	Craine
Borowicz	G	Scala
Dunlevy	G	Sawor

gets most of his two-plyers around the hoop, unerringly dumping rebounds and scoring on beautiful-to-watch pivot plays. Because of his height, Cathcart is a he-wolf on defense, controlling rebounds and intercepting numerous passes.

Borowicz Valuable

Cathcart's supporter is Norbert Borowicz, ranked by many rooters as the most valuable player on the team. Cool and a deadly shot outside the foul circle, Borowicz is a shrewd defensive head and a lad imbued with basketball instinct few athletes possess.

Evans, Green and Dunlevy round out a veteran combination which has been selected by many to succeed Monaca as Class B WPIAL champion.

Frank Bennett, Sawor, Marich and Scala are Wampum's other varsity representatives. Heady, talented, speedy and the fightingest club you ever saw, the quartet harmonizes perfectly with Craine.

The "Indians" resort mostly to one-handed heaves. Thus far, the Hennonmen have piled up enough fielders to boast of a 50-game average in Section 21 and close to 50 points a clash for their 15 contests.

Defensively, Wampum will lay out its reliable zone defense.

The "Greyhounds" also will use a zone defense, due primarily to the small size of the playing court.

There may be a low score, due to the aforementioned zone nets which are effective on a narrow court.

In the heated sectional chase, the teams are deadlocked for the sky post, each sporting five loop triumphs.

Fans fortunate to get into the auditorium are almost sure to see basketball at its best.

Union At East Brook

In other Section 21 theatres, Union Township flips against East Brook on the Brookers' range. While the two teams have been eliminated from the title run, the clash nevertheless should produce an abundance of thrills.

Bessemer's outfit, still entertaining hopes of winning the sectional banner despite a pair of setbacks, plays host to Mt. Jackson. The "Cementers" must win all the way out to keep their title boat from capsizing.

In a non-league game, Shenango tackles veteran Evans City at East New Castle.

Bookies Favor Pep Over Stolz

Hartford Sensation Seeks 59th Straight Win, Tonight In New York

STOLZ'S EXPERIENCE MAY SMASH STREAK

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Allie Stolz, Newark lightweight is on the spot at Madison Square Garden tonight when he must hand Wee Willie Pep his first professional boxing setback or slide down to the bottom of the fistic ladder.

Pep rules a 6 to 5 favorite over the smart boxing Jersey lad but there is so much interest in the battle it wouldn't be much of a surprise if the boys went into the ring at even money.

Pep, a Hartford lad, has won 58 straight, a record unequalled in modern ring history, and though essentially a featherweight will only spot Stolz 4 or 5 pounds.

Allie, who has been beaten by Sammy Angott and kayoed by Beau Jack in recent starts at the garden, must win this one or risk being called a "has been."

If styles mean anything, and they certainly should, Stolz will whip Pep. He is a much more experienced battler and will call on it tonight, if ever he did, for this is the time it will have to count.

Barney Offered Hand Of Chief's Daughter For Knockout, Letter States

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—Barney Ross, former welterweight champion who was cited not long ago for his fighting as a Marine, knocked out the native heavyweight champion in Samoa and was offered the hand of one chief's daughter as a result, it wa. reported in Pittsburgh today.

A letter from a soldier to a local sports writer said Ross didn't want the fight, but since the honor of the Marines was at stake, he agreed and 16-ounce gloves were used. The other fellow, who had been giving the soldier heavyweights a "going over", weighed 215.

The letter added that Ross floored the giant 11 times before knocking him out in the sixth. As a result, one of the native chiefs offered him his daughter in marriage and wanted him to share his crown, the letter said.

Baseball Wages Won't Be Frozen, INS Writer Says

Bureau Of Internal Revenue Decree Forthcoming, Mahon Claims

PLAYERS WILL BE FREE TO BARGAIN

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Major league baseball magnates, grateful there has been no rationing of headache powders today awaited official word from Washington that would permit them to open contract negotiations with their hirelings for 43 and were prepared for a wailing chorus of holdout complaints that should each from coast to coast!

Your correspondent has learned from a most authoritative source, that baseball wages will not be frozen; that the sport will be treated like any other business and that all players, regardless of how much they earn, are free to negotiate for more dough under regulations laid down by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Ruling Forthcoming

The BIR will issue a ruling to this effect, probably within 48 hours, ending weeks of speculation in which 15 or the 16 major league teams withheld mailing of contracts at the requests of National League President Ford Frick and Will Harridge, head of the American loop.

Only the N. Y. Giants, which received an opinion from their regional internal revenue board, went ahead on their own and mailed out documents to their men.

Frick and Harridge will be told by letter that:

Club owners will not need to gain formal approval from the BIR in order to grant individual wage increases if the increase comes within the normal salary schedule operated by the club in the past or last year.

The clubs will be required to file with the Bureau of Internal Revenue a full salary schedule covering the range of salaries paid in the past.

If the clubs keep within the "merit or service" increases provided for in these schedules it will not be necessary to notify the bureau or ask for any approval of them.

Since no ballplayers are earning $25,000 net after taxes are deducted, no question of salary "ceilings" has been considered.

The BIR has jurisdiction over salaries of $5,000 per year or more and the War Labor Board handles those less than $5,000. The latter agency is also expected to issue a ruling in the near future, either greatly similar or identical to that of the BIR.

Fun Should Start

The BIR ruling will give the DiMaggios, the Hubbells, the Mort Coopers, John Mizes and the rest of the guys who think they merit more dough, the green light, however, and then the fun will start.

The magnates have been content to believe, till now, that public reaction would militate against "holdouts" this hot stove league season. We consider this a bit of very wishful thinking.

When that Washington ruling is officially announced, you'll hear moans from misunderstood stars all over the baseball globe—and the charge of the 600 to the "wailing wall" will begin.

Watch and see.

'Cane-Ellwood City Battle Has Appeal

Inter-County Rivals Play Here Saturday; "Wolverines" Favored

Considerable interest is being evinced in Saturday night's Section 3 game between New Castle and Ellwood City High.

Carded for George Washington Junior High floor, the setto originally was scheduled for tonight but had to be moved back due to commencement here.

Because of the inter-county rivalry, the contest has particular appeal to cage fans.

For the first time in several seasons the "Wolverines" are listed as favorites. Ellwood's record is more impressive by far. The Bridenbaughmen haven't won a clash since December 19 while the "Wolverines" can boast of victories over Beaver Falls and Wampum, two of the top ranking scholastic outfits around here.

HUTSON, PRO STAR, GIVES UP FOOTBALL

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Don Hutson, star pass-catching end of the Green Bay Packers professional football team, announced today that he was quitting the game. He recently was named the National Football league's most valuable player for the second straight season.

Hutson said he wished to devote his entire time in the future to his bowling alleys in Green Bay.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Friday "P. M." sportsgraphs:—

With basketball's personal foul rule being attacked from all angles and corners, George "Gig" Thomas, a Ne-Ca-Hi assistant coach, chimes in with an idea that is practical and worthwhile. . .

The Geneva college product suggests erasing the four-personal statute from the books and entrusting the referee and umpire with the power of thumbing out a performer who transgresses. Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner likes the plan. . .

There's a possibility that Second Lieutenant William "Bill" Chip, of the U. S. Marines, soon may be home on furlough, according to the ex-Navy grid star's father. He's stationed in Cuba. Corporal George, a brother, helping to fight the Japs around Australia. . . .

A strange situation, an unprecedented one, sticks out its neck at New Wilmington. With the Westminster Titans slated to entertain West Liberty and the high school carded to tackle Wampum in a crucial Section 21 game, the Class B fray rates top billing! . . .

A limited gallery will be privileged to watch the Craine-Cathcart duel tonight. Staged in a large gym during normal times, such a Class B attraction easily would lure several thousand persons. . .

Someone has bought Gus Dorazio's pugilistic contract for reportedly $5,000. If you can tell me why anyone would want to sing such a figure in a fighter, at a time like this, write at my expense. . .

As of yesterday afternoon at 4:26 p. m. the Phillies' were still shy a training camp. Swarthmore doesn't seem to want 'em. Neither does anyone else. That's easy to understand. . . Johnny Boland, an Oil City postal worker, figuring that he doesn't get enough daytime exercise hauling the mail, tried his hand at duckpin bowling a few nights ago. You're right. He rolled a perfect 300 game!

PESEK SAYS HE'S CHAMP; SO WHAT?

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 29.—John Pesak, the Nebraska Tigerman, today says he's heavyweight wrestling champion of the world after his defeat of Ed (Strangler) Lewis of Kentucky and New York last night in Columbus.

Pesek took the match after 25 minutes of grappling by nearly twisting the Strangler's left leg into a pretzel.

P. S. Despite painful leg twisting, Lewis ate a hearty mean.

Game Commish Election Unfurls Unique Situation

Doubt Surrounds Gipple's Selection; Legality Of Meeting Questioned

NAME C. E. PHILLIPS AS VICE PRESIDENT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 29.—Election of O. Ben Gipple of Harrisburg as president of the Pennsylvania Game Commission was surrounded by doubt today pending a decision by the department of justice affecting the legality of the proceedings.

Five commissioners met and held the election despite receipt of a telegram from Retiring President Ross L. Leffler of McKeesport postponing the event until Attorney General James H. Duff could rule on whether Commissioner A. J. Hanes of St. Marys was legally entitled to sit. Hanes was appointed by former Gov. Arthur H. James but has not yet been confirmed by the senate. A quorum consists of five members.

Still One Vacancy

Commissioner C. E. Phillips of Sunbury was named vice president, succeeding Robert Lamberton of Franklin, who was also absent. Those who participated in the election were Gipple, Phillips, Hanes, S. Harold Fisher of Huntingdon and Ernest E. Harwood of Hazleton. There is one vacancy on the commission.

Leffler telegraphed commission members that he had intended to issue a formal call for a meeting Jan. 28 "in compliance with the directory provision of the law" but explained that "legal questions awaiting decision by the department of justice necessitated postponement." He added that "a meeting will be called as soon as possible after disposition of these questions.

All commissioners who participated in yesterday's election were appointed by former Governor James. Hanes was the only one, however, selected while the senate was in session, thus raising the question whether he was entitled to take office pending his confirmation. Following his inauguration, Gov. Edward Martin recalled all five nominations from the senate and it was not known whether he would reappoint them.

SPORT CAPSULES

QUITE AN ATHLETE

COLUMBUS, O. — Bill Smith sounds like an ordinary name, but the Bill Smith who is a freshman at Ohio State university is not ordinary in at least one respect—swimming.

Bill, who is only 18, holds world records for the 220, 440-yard and 400-meter indoor swims, and the 400 and 800 meter outdoor events. His times (and he rattles them off without a second of hesitation) are: 2:07.7 for the 220-yard; 4:38.5 for both the 440-yard and 400-meters; 4:41.1 for the 400-meter outdoor; 9:50.9 for the 800-meters.

"Swimming just comes natural to me," Bill explains. "I started swimming almost as soon as I could walk."

New York Turf Operators Card 180-Day Program

Receive Approval, To Stage Gee-Gee Shows From April 9 To November 3

HORSES MAY HAUL FANS TO TRACKS

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Dear old dobbin will keep bob, bobbing around the race tracks of our town just as long as there are enough horses to make up a race and a handful of fans to bet on them it became apparent today with the revelation that turf operators had scheduled a complete program of 180 racing days for 1943.

Despite transportation difficulties and the ban on pleasure driving the operators of Jamaica, Aqueduct, Belmont Park, Empire City and yes—even historic, old Saratoga—asked for and received approved dates to carry on the sport of kings from April 9 right through November 3.

The Jamaica management has a spring meeting opening April 9 and closing May 8. This will be followed by 24 days at Belmont, 18 days at Aqueduct, 24 days at Empire City and a proposed 30 days at Saratoga.

In the fall, the schedule calls for 18 days at Aqueduct, 18 at Belmont, 9 at Jamaica and 12 at Empire City where the curtain is scheduled to fall November 3.

Chairman Herbert Bayard Swope of the racing commission reiterated in a statement that racing should assume its proper place in the war pattern and said the commission planned to guard the sport against unwarranted criticism.

Discuss Transportation

Taking cognizance of the fact that such tracks as Empire, and particularly Saratoga, will be severely pressed by the transportation problem, Swope advocated, once again, the adoption of horse drawn vehicles to transport the fans.

He scoffed at the idea of banning automobiles from admission to racing grounds. "Don't let's fool ourselves," he said. "If racing is patronized by gas users it will be held responsible. Racing would be like a receiver of stolen goods. It's silly to say the automobiles will not be admitted to the grounds. They'd park their cars all around the place and the effect would be damning.

"This is the time for the sport to be safe instead of being sorry; to go slow now so as to be able to regain its place later. It doesn't matter if racing stops. It matters terribly if the war is interfered with.

"First comes victory—toH-ll with everything else."

WRITERS HONOR MEN IN SERVICE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—In honor of America's men in the services, the Philadelphia Sporting Writers' Association today had presented its annual trophy to "the members of our All-Time, All-Star team."

While the 1,000 guests cheered, Lieut. Slade Cutter, former Navy football star whose field goal defeated Army in 1934, accepted the statuette in behalf of his comrades-in-arms. The presentation took the place of the "most outstanding athlete" and "most courageous athlete" awards which have been features of past dinners.

Gomez . . . war worker

Mr. and Mrs. Gomez and children

BACK IN 1929, the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast league had a star pitcher to sell. His price was $35,000. The Yankees of the American league wanted that pitcher and took him. That was the beginning of the major league career of Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, colorful southpaw of the Yankee club, now sold to the Boston Braves. Gomez, sometimes referred to as "El Goof," because of his antics both on and off the field, reached his peak with the Yanks in 1934 when he compiled 26 wins against only five losses. He has been a starting pitcher most of his years with the Yanks, but last season could win only six games against four defeats. In 12 years with the Yanks, Gomez has won 189 games against 101 losses. He has appeared in five world series and five All-Star games. Gomez was born at Rodeo, Cal., in 1910 of Spanish-Irish parents. He is married to the former June O'Dea, musical comedy star. His hobby is aviation. He has been working this winter in a Lynn, Mass., defense plant for $40 a week.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. — Sports people are awaiting some vital rulings from Washington—rulings that will have a direct bearing on football and other college athletics this year and next and perhaps for the duration. In the midst of this, the University of Pittsburgh, which has been in a state of football confusion for five or six years, hires a coach in the grand manner.

They don't merely get a guy who can go through the motions in times like these when there is all this uncertainty over what the game is going to be like in the near future, if any. They reach out and bring in none other than T-Formation Shaughnessy, well-remembered victim of the de-emphasis at Chicago, hero of Stanford's resurgence and more lately doing a little better than all right at Maryland.

Tail-End Of Housecleaning

He goes to Pitt on the tail-end of a football housecleaning that led eventually to the unseating of Jock Sutherland who was a thoroughly competent coach and genteel fellow deserving of a better fate than the politics that finally engulfed him. All he did was to put out winning football teams, which was the idea in the first place.

That's still the idea. For the people who saw the alleged evil of winning football, there has been a brief respite at Pitt, during which, they have looked upon the mangling of their teams by opposing, which wouldn't get beyond its end zone in the old days. It may be bad to win, but it's worse to keep on losing as Pitt now seems to realize.

Hence, Mr. T-Formation himself comes upon the scene at a salary estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 a year.

What nobody has been able to figure out is the meaning of all this, not that it necessarily is anybody's business.

But at a time like this and like the immediate future threatens to be, Shaughnessy might be the genius above and beyond all geniuses without being able to win at football. You've got to have players. Don't tell me he's going to call the signals, handle the ball, do the blocking and the passing and the chores of a man in motion personally to make that T-formation click.

Maybe Pitt has the inside stuff and knows the war is going to be over by the fall.

As to that, though, only a day or two ago orders were announced for the mustering of all enlisted army reservists in colleges, possibly ending football at some schools, causing considerable concern at all of them. Every section will be hit by that one, pending the rulings aforementioned at the start of this.

What the schools are waiting to find out, among other things, is whether the service men who will be quartered at more than 200 colleges will be permitted to play football with those teams, or be prevented from participating all together, or be built into separate service teams. They probably will be allowed to play with colleges, if they can find the time, but there is nothing definite about it.

Athletic Drain Started

Meantime, the drain on athletes will start and hundreds will be swept away for the duration. The Big Ten may resort finally to allowing freshmen to enter varsity competition. Other sections will do what they can to keep going. All will lose athletic manpower and there is uncertainty everywhere. The usual January schedule-making meetings of the central office for eastern intercollegiate athletics has been postponed until March or April.

BENTLEY EQUALS WORLD'S HOCKEY SCORING RECORD

(International News Service)

Max Bentley, and his brother Doug were acclaimed today as the Chicago Black Hawks ran roughshod over the New York Rangers in Chicago last night, 10 to 1.

Max Tied the world's individual scoring record with four goals and three assists scoring all of his goals in the final period. Brother Doug did all right for himself in the game scoring two goals and four assists. Max tied the record set this year by Carl Liscombe of the Detroit Red Wings.

TITANS W. LIBERTY TO CLASH TONIGHT

time for tonight's game will be delayed so that local fans may see the crucial tilt between New Wilmington and Wampum high.

A topnotch player who will be seen in action tonight is veteran center Munson who recently netted 40 points in a game against Salem College and held Brooms Abramovic to a mere 26 points for the game.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

They're rationing sugar and coffee. Butter is difficult to be had and soon they'll be rationing canned goods. We don't give a continental. We have ridden the rods and partaken of a loaf of dry bread and bologna while ducking the railroad bulls and we can still enjoy bread and onions if needs be. However, there is one thing we take seriously—not because we're so successful in the art, but because it affords relaxation, not only to us but many others. It is fishing. And, before piling up additional words, we suggest to the State Fish commission that fish be rationed in this district.

There won't be much pleasure driving for a long time. Therefore, persons who like to fish will have a long walk if they desire to fish. If they use their cars they will be pleasure driving. Ration books will be seized.

We suggest that when the commission sends fish to be stocked that they be stocked in streams in which they will live, nearest populated centers.

No one wants to walk from this city to Taylor run, Deer creek or Hickory creek. Put trout in Taylor run and the two creeks, but not all of them. Save some for the Neshannock creek near the city.

No one wants to walk to the dam above Volant or to the Rose Point bridge over the Slippery Rock. Put some bass in those places, but also put some bass in the Neshannock creek near the city.

Inasmuch as the city intends to run city water into the pool at Cascade Park and the water is to be filtered, why not put some bass in Cascade lake. The park, you know, is people-owned, not possessed privately.

And talking about regular attendants, chalk up these: Kiski Marino at ball games. Tick Tack (Guy) Francis at prize fights and Tony Sacco at football games. "Doc" Harper and ex-commissioner of the county, P. O. Elder, plus Ivor Davis disliked missing a wrestling match here or elsewhere. . . . Incidentally, the rasslers have been hit hard by gas rationing. Very few shows are being booked. Twenty-five years ago Jimmy O'Donnell of Lowellville looked like a likely good featherweight. He quit the game. . . . After the last war Johnny Fundy, A. E. F. featherweight champion, fought Babe Picato in an Ellwood City ring.

While in the retrospective mood, thoughts go back to Tuts Custer, ex-gridder. He was an all right guy. . . . It looks as though the horse and buggy are coming back, which recalls in the H. & B. days it was possible to see a chicken fight once in awhile; that is, if one could dodge the authorities. . . . Here's hoping some of the trout wander toward The Narrows because gas rationing is bound to keep a lot of fishermen away from streams.

Golf Star Ill

TOM CREAVY, the Albany, N Y., golfer who won the P G A tourney when he was only 20 years old and then saw a brilliant links career hampered by a knee ailment, is critically ill in an Albany hospital. Creavy resigned as pro at the Albany Country club last fall because of his health

New Peaks In Stock Market

Steel And Aviation Shares Lead Rise In Prices During Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan 29.—The stock market today pushed through to new 15-month highs under the lead of steel and aviation shares. Gains ran to more than a point and trading was extremely active on the rise.

Dealings were quiet at the opening, but the list quickly picked up momentum as buying was attracted into a few key grounds.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible and Youngstown Sheet & Tube each climbed a point or more in a strong steel section. Similar gains were shown by Douglas, Lockheed and Glenn L. Martin in the aviations.

Scores of representative issued reached new peaks, including International Telephone, Allied Chemical, Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Co., Standard Oil of California, Continental Can, Pepsi-Cola, Westinghouse, National Biscuit, National Dairy, International Nickel, Woolworth and U. S. Rubber.

There were a few laggards, as Oliver Farm, Owens-Illinois Glass, U. S. Gypsum, American Telephone and Public Service of N. J.

Tuberculosis Board Meets; Report Given

Resignation Of Executive Secy., Mrs. Helen S. Vonderau, Presented; Accepts New Position

It was reported at the board meeting of Lawrence County Tuberculosis society held in the local headquarters, Lawrence Savings & Trust building that during the past nine months to date, 407 X-rays were taken through the local office, 1880 tuberculin tests were given in schools, industries and to individuals requesting tests, as one part of the program carried out by the organization 365 days, made possible through the annual Christmas Seal sale. This year 8800 seal letters were mailed out.

The session was presided over by the vice-president, Dr. David L. Perry, and it was with regret the resignation of Mrs. Helen S. Vonderau, acting executive secretary, was accepted. She has taken a new position with the Aluminum company in the medical department, which duties she will begin February 8. Miss Della Glenn, former executive secretary, was named to fill the vacancy, until a new executive is appointed.

While the Tuberculosis society has been operating since 1907, day in and day out, on the proceeds realized through the sale of Christmas Seals, it is apparent that the wide field of duty carried on for humanity is realized by many. The board members outlined an extensive educational campaign which will be effective throughout the coming months furthering the tuberculin tests to students and workers in order to recognize if tuberculosis germs in the body are active or not. X-ray work of those with a positive reaction will be cared for, milk programs and a general "build up" program will be promoted for the protection of humanity.

Six new board members were appointed as follows: Dr. Paul B. Wilson, Dr. Donald C. Eckles, Rev. V. V. Stancelewski, Rev. Lawrence Faivre of Plaingrove, John C. Syling, superintendent of county schools; Attorney Kenneth McClure and Miss Helen Wilson. Present at the meeting were Dr. David L. Perry, Mrs. George D. Blair, Jr., Mrs. Paul Forcey, Miss Della Glenn, Rev. Charles Bell, Supt. Frank L. Burton, Carl Miner, Sam Lewis and Andrew Dodds.

At Christmastime the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society remembered those patients from Lawrence county confined to Cresson, Mt. Alto and Hamburg sanatoriums with individual fruit cakes.

Report On Work

For the past nine months of work accomplished by the chapter to date, was given by Mrs. Vonderau.

The report follows:

400 health posters distributed to schools and industries.

4100 pieces of literature distributed in schools, industries and to the general public.

5 health movies were shown at two junior high schools, three consolidated schools, St. Phillip-James Catholic school and the Salvation Army.

1 educational radio transcription was presented.

1800 pints of milk were distributed.

108 schools were visited. Each teacher was given samples of literature and health posters with the privilege of ordering more.

27 books on tuberculosis were distributed.

6 Isotype charts were given to the two nurses training schools and four schools.

40 health talks were given.

220 letters were written to parents of positive T.B. students.

35 business letters.

53 business calls.

33 social service calls.

92 visits to tuberculosis patients.

7 milk investigations.

64½ days were spent at pre-school age clinics.

1 day spent at state orthopedic clinic at Jameson Memorial hospital.

Assisted at four state clinics in absence of state nurses.

2 days spent at seal sale conference in Pittsburgh.

½ day spent at Beaver County Tuberculosis society.

½ day spent in Ellwood City.

6 pairs of pajamas bought for patients going to state sanatoria.

Sterile dressings bought for one patient.

407 X-rays were taken through local office.

3 days spent conducting the colored tuberculosis survey.

1880 tuberculin tests were given in schools, industry and to individuals requesting tests.

AROUND CITY HALL

Council would like to see more buses in operation here. If there is any way it may be brought about council is willing to act. This was the substance of a councilmanic discussion here Thursday.

It costs Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer money to receive a tax bill dun, this having been explained by Finance Director Albert Hoyland when he asked permission Thursday to purchase $590 worth of stamps. The city tax letter shower is scheduled this month, according to a statement made by the city treasurer, C. C. McKibben.

Old tax duplicates stored at the sewage disposal plant instead of in the city treasury? They are, according to a statement made by Attorney Joe McFate in council meeting Thursday. He informed the solons he had "looked up" information concerning a tax duplicate for a property for which taxes were paid in 1915 and learned that tax duplicates of that vintage—and, in fact, others up to 1922—had for some reason been removed and placed at the disposal plant—but attorneys need such information and council agreed with the attorney they should not be so disposed of. They were taken there before the present treasurer was in office. Joe Alexander, director of the plant, instructed someone should be appointed to recover the valuable dockets (if they are still there) and this will be done.
